COURT OF APPEALS, DIVISION II
OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON

In re the Personal Restraint Petition of: ANTHONY RYAN PUGH Petitioner	Reply to State Response of PRP

Petitioner, Anthony Ryan Pugh, replies to states response. Attorney General made numerous errors in response that must be addressed. First, my return to WCC was only for 6 week temporary mental health evaluation with transfer back to camp upon completion. Dr. Donna Smith recomended return to camp and work release at hearing. So this is not a violation of condition to transition through lower custody levels. College Readiness was before transfer to LCC not after as stated by AG. Class missed was only due to Alexinski stating not required since it interfered with work program.

All incedents CUS Denny is exaggerating were so small not even a minor infraction were written in any incident. One infraction dropped due to no evidence from staff involved. CUS Denny further lied stating I had no empathy for other staff. Such as failure to note positive crono's from Debra Smith upon completion of T4C and written apology letter to A.C. Graham. CUS Denny's report written by someone with clear personal bias and unprofessional exaggerations to write about incidents he was never even in institution when they happened. My desire to not speak to someone is a right and not evidence I would commit any crime upon release as presumed by RCW.

Counselor Hobby has also recommended lower custody trasition and helped me create new release plan. With transfer to CRCC camp upon completion of construction trades course next month. I also completed Institutional Sanitation and held employment as unit porter since September 2016.

Early release after 20 years is presumptive unless the board determines by a preponderance of the evidence that even with conditions the person is more libaly to commit new criminal law violation. Board is going against recommendation of two counselors and two psycologists of my release with no evidence of criminal behavior and violation of MRP.

Transfer to WCC for MH review was not a failure to transition to lower custody. Work release was optional and since 2-28-17 release date is past, I request court order immediate release.
