IN THE COURT OF APPEAL OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON SEATTLE-Division 1.

(One Union Square, 600 University Street, Seattle WA 98101-4170)

David Muresan		Case. # 838784
Appellant vs.
Island County		Motion for discretionary review of the
Respondent		(Order entered on Feb. 6 th 2023)
		(based on RAP 13.5(a).)

The Appellant, David Muresan present to Court of Appeal;

1) This order is to review my Emergency Motion to allow me to live on my property, as the order says "denying his fourth emergency motion seeking injunctive relief." Asking to allow me to live on my property.

2) My case is: "I violated zoning by housing homeless people on my property. Island County in Washington state 2.1) put me in jail for 4 Months, 2.2) forced me homeless, 2.3) cut all my income and put me in 2.4) danger to lose my house in foreclosure. They took away my right to use my toilet and to work on my inventions on my property. Court of Appeal Div.1 from Seattle, Commissioner Masako Kanazawa denied my requests to prevent my arrest and homelessness. Commissioner agrees with Island County decision saying "David Muresan is safer as homeless or jail than he is living on his property."

3) I got 4 punishments for my crime to house, once, poor people on my property. This punishment is in violation of the 5th amendment saying "protects the right to due process, and prohibits self-incrimination and double jeopardy" I ask the Court of Appeal to accept that double jeopardy was violated, and to allow me to live and work on my property.

4) All the violations made by Superior Court and the District Court were presented in the previous materials send to Court of Appeal.
