

Motion for Extension to file a Motion for Discretionary Review

by Washington State Supreme Court

Bolivar Real Estate, Jamison Eastburg))
No. 389677-III))
V.)) Rochelle Pratt, Diana Pratt))

Please extend time for myself, Rochelle Pratt, and my mom, Diana Pratt, to continue writing our Motion for Discretionary Review. I, Rochelle Pratt, have had an extremely hard year dealing with my disabilities and medical challenges/treatments while having to also participate in this legal crisis that was forced onto us, the Pratts, by our former landlords once one of them caused me an injury and then began retaliating against my mom and I during the pandemic, which has been very difficult to both our health and lives. On top of that, I have had a recent major set back medically. I have been seeing the same specialized physical therapist for four years for chronic conditions after multiple surgeries and injuries. Due to an insurance delay, I was caused to suffer a medical setback being deprived suddenly of my medical treatment with my specialist not being able to have any appointments with him for a long period of time, which caused my vertigo, migraines and injuries to flare up. I am now needing to catch up with my treatments so that I can stabilize medically. My migraines along with my other health issues, make it extremely difficult to type and comprehend the different procedures and law necessary for the Supreme Court to help my mom defend ourselves. It will take me some time to catch up from this major gap in treatment, while I once again attend my ongoing physical therapy appointments. And I just got my first appointment with my physical therapist to begin the ongoing treatment again. Diana Pratt has had multiple joint surgeries as well and is needing extra treatment for her hands and wrists surgeries and thoracic back injury. Hand writing is impossible for her and typing can only be done in short periods given her previous surgeries on her wrists. We, both as pro se, take longer than average typing anything and due to these flare ups from our individual disabilities, we need more time researching and writing the Motion for Discretionary Review. We also want to make sure, as pro se, that we are following all the procedures and rules per this motion appropriately. Please extend our Motion for Discretionary Review for an additional 30 days to February 5, 2024.
