What is JIS-Link?

The JIS-Link (formerly called JIS) provides Public Users access to Court Cases through a modernized application. With the success of AOC's Enterprise Data Exchange (EDE) project, the implementation of the Enterprise Data Repository (EDR) was started. The EDR contains the statewide person and case data and has become the primary source for statewide views of all person and case data.

JIS-Link retrieves information from the EDR database and displays information from various case management systems that feed into the EDR. Both AOC owned case management systems and locally owned case management systems are again in one place. JIS-Link has view-only access to the most complete and accurate case management data from AOC's Enterprise Data Repository (EDR). Some benefits of the new application will include:

- Streamlined logon process,
- "Point and click" navigation, not JIS commands, and
- Displays information in natural language, not codes.

If you have questions, please contact JISLinkUpdates@courts.wa.gov

User Agreement

The User Agreement will display each time a user logs into JIS-Link. Users must select 'accept' to enter application:

The Administrative Office of the Courts, the Washington Courts, and the Washington State County Clerks:

The user should verify the information by personally consulting the "official" record at the court of record.

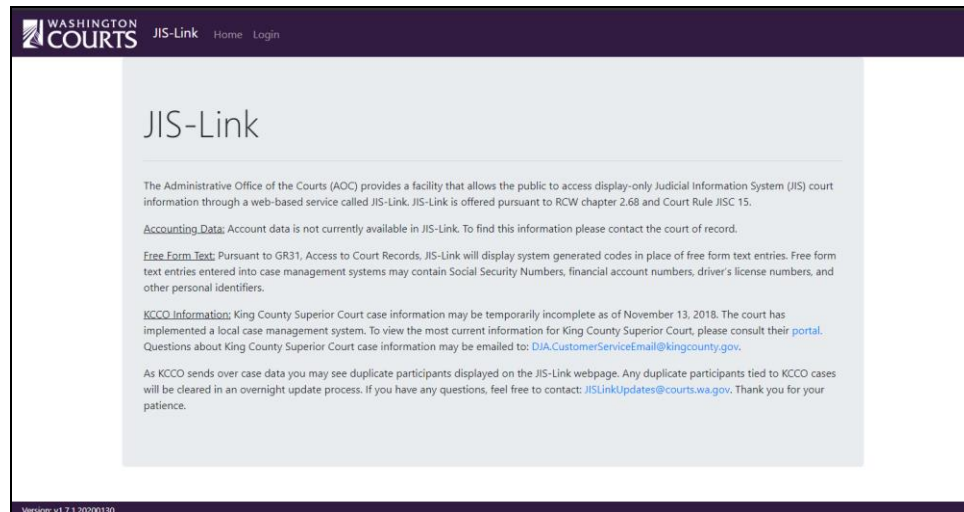

Accounting Data: Account data is not currently available in JIS-Link. To find this information please contact the court of record.

Free Form Text: Pursuant to GR31, Access to Court Records, JIS-Link will display system generated codes in place of free form text entries. Free form text entries entered into case management systems may contain Social Security Numbers, financial account numbers, driver's license numbers, and other personal identifiers.

The navigation elements are very helpful when there is a large list of data to show for any person / organization record section. Use these navigation elements on the top right to quickly view the data.

Associated Names

Multiple person records can exist within a system and the system can link them together. Since there can be multiple systems providing person records to the AOC's Enterprise Data Repository (EDR), there are automated processes to join person records together across the systems. Names that have been joined from the system and the automated process are identified as associated names.
