WASHINGTON SUPREME COURT

RONALD BUZZARD JR.,

Appellant,

v.

ISRB, ESRC, DOC, et al.,

Respondent(s)

NO. 102875-0

MOTION FOR ACCELERATED

REVIEW, RAP 18.8, RAP 18.12

Ronald Buzzard Jr., Appellant, herein Pro Se moves this Court for a Motion for Accelerated Review pursuant to RAP 18.8, and RAP 18.12 because if he wins he'd be released immediately, and he was supposed to have been released in November 2021, 2 1/2 years ago.

RAP 18.12 allows this court to set any matter for accelerated disposition, In re Pers. Restraint of Pauley, 13 Wn. App. 2d 292, 307, 466 P.3d 245 (Div. I, 2020).

Buzzard is unlawfully restrained and should have been released in November 2021, but due to ESRC-End of Sentence Review Committee, Theo Lewis, indiscriminately changing my sex offender registration level from low to high, level One to level Three the ISRB added 2 years to my minimum term after my community custody revocation without notice. Then in February 2024, the ISRB again added 48 months, 4 years, to my minimum term based on this illegal change that violated due process, and the fact that Buzzard was given a diagnosis by an FPE Psychologist that was also illegally spurred by the illegal level change by the ESRC.

Buzzard would NOT have been put in for the FPE if his level had not been illegally changed by the ESRC in violation of due process and the mandatory language in RCW 9A.05.420 (1)(a), (c) of "shall participate in," U.S. Const, Amend. 5, 14; Wash. Const. Art. I § 3, 22.

This is an issue of "substantial public interest" since it will overturn over 1,000 cases for others who had their level indiscriminately raised after community custody revocation between 2020 - 2022.

Buzzard's over 2 1/2 years past when he should have been released after his community custody revocation. Buzzard has completed SOTAP successfully in June 2023, and Alternatives to Violence, and his Entrepreneurship College certificate, is in his last 2 classes for his Associates Degree in Business, he's an Honorably Discharged Marine Corps Veteran, Buzzard owns his own businesses and is a very productive member of society, Buzzard takes care of his Vietnam Veteran parents, physically and financially, and not being there for them the last 4 years has been financially devastating.

This case and "issue of first impression" needs to be decided de novo in his favor since he's proven the Court of Appeals' decision was err and an abuse of discretion when their decision stated "Buzzard failed to prove a 'mandatory duty.'" Buzzard has more than sufficiently proves this in his Petition for Review Brief.

Accelerated review should be granted so Buzzard's level can be changed back to level one, negating and invalidating the FPE/SVP Petition and Psychological Evaluation, and immediately releasing him, and compensating him for the nearly 3 years unlawful incarceration.

In re Press Restraint of Allgoewer, No. 39505-7-III (D.V.2, 2024); In re Det. of Vejar, No. 62596-2-II (D.V.2, 2024) (Accelerated review is a "means of mitigating the prejudice to Vejar.").

As a means to mitigate prejudice to Buzzard this accelerated review should be granted, and his Petition for Review GRANTED
