

RECEIVED
JUL 18 2019

Washington State
Supreme Court

No. 971579

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON

STATE OF WASHINGTON

v.

CHRISTOPHER WILLIAM OLSEN

MOTION REQUESTING PERMISSION TO FILE A
SUPPLEMENTAL BRIEF PURSUANT TO RAP 10.1(h)

Presented by:

Christopher W. Olsen #805191
MCC-TRU-B-503
P.O. BOX 888
Monroe, Wa 98272

I. IDENTITY

Appellant/Petitioner, Christopher W. Olsen, hereby brings forth this Motion to Supplement and asks for the Relief Sought in Part II.

II. RELIEF SOUGHT

Olsen respectfully asks this Supreme Court to accept his Supplemental Briefing filed pursuant to RAP 10.1(h), similar to FORM 7, "Notice of intent to file Pro Se Brief".

III. ARGUMENT

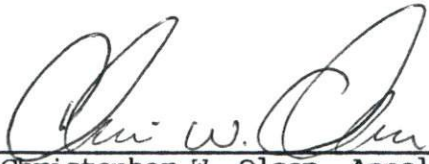

(i) Olsen's appellate counsel, Mr. Thomas E. Weaver, has submitted a Petition for Discretionary Review. However, after considering his experience with getting the Supreme Court to accept review of a case, Mr. Weaver employed the strategy of bringing forth only one issue, despite other grounds which had strong merit.

(ii) Not wanting to abandon strong issue's of merit, and realizing that other grounds for relief complimented, or were part-and-parcel of Mr. Weaver's issue, Mr. Olsen moves to include those other issues of merit.

III. CONCLUSION

In accordance with RAP 10.1(h), 2.5, 13.7, and 16.10, the Supreme Court has the discretion to order, and or, accept additional briefing. In Mr. Olsen's case, he is on Direct Appeal, however, there is also a consolidated Personal Restraint Petition. Entitled to a liberal interpretation of the Statutes, Mr. Olsen prays that the Supreme Court will accept review of his case, and accept his Supplemental Briefing in the interests of justice.

DATED this 11 day of July, 2019

Christopher W. Olsen, Appellant

Pending Discretionary Review of 48294-1-II