

35 trooper cadets graduate from patrol academy

The Associated Press
The Olympian
March 14, 2014

Washington state trooper cadets bow their heads in prayer in the Capitol rotunda during the Washington State Patrol Academy graduation ceremonies on Friday, March 14, 2014, in Olympia, Wash. More than 30 cadets were part of the graduating class.
RACHEL LA CORTE — AP Photo

OLYMPIA, Wash. — Nearly three dozen state troopers were sworn in at a ceremony at the Capitol.

The 35 troopers graduated from the Washington State Patrol Academy and were sworn in by Washington State Supreme Court Justice Debra Stephens on Friday and were presented their commission cards by Governor Jay Inslee and Chief John R. Batiste.

Each trooper cadet completed more than 1,000 hours of training.

Read more here: <http://www.theolympian.com/2014/03/14/3034618/35-trooper-cadets-graduate-from.html#storylink=cpy>