Subject: Comment on Proposed Amendment to GR 14

The rule looks good, but it could use some clarification re the "margins" language. I personally don't have to file any exhibits that aren't on 8-1/2 X 11" paper, but I file a lot of attachments that don't have one-inch margins, because they aren't documents generated in law firms (such as client documents, etc.) The way the rule is currently written implies that all attachments will be expected to have clear one inch margins on each side.

Thanks for taking comments!
