

I would like to comment on how much of a ridiculous fiasco being a guardian is in Washington, but this isn't my PROFESSION. It's my unfortunate hobby and I'm very livid about how difficult we make it. I have almost no choice but to hire a low grade lawyer or deal with almost constant harassment from the courts over absolutely stupid cr@p that keeps me from doing what really matters for those I am charged with caring for. On top of that I'm not going to negotiate a 40 page essay on how to make a comment that is introduced by saying that this process will change.
