

Guardianship and Conservatorship Program Regulations

305 Overruled, Revised or Withdrawn Ethics Advisory Opinions

305.1 After the Board has approved an ethics advisory opinion, the Board may overrule, revise or withdraw an ethics advisory opinion based upon any subsequent change or reinterpretation of the law, legal decisions, court rules, regulations, Standards of Practice or other information.

305.2 The Board shall give notice in a timely manner to Guardian and Conservators and Agencies that an ethics advisory opinion has been overruled, revised or withdrawn by the Board.

305.3 Reliance on an Ethics Advisory Opinion by a Guardian and Conservator or Agency on an Ethics advisory opinion that has not been overruled, revised or withdrawn by the Board may be offered as evidence of good faith in any subsequent disciplinary proceeding involving a Guardian and Conservator or Agency.
