

IN THE COURT OF APPEALS

for the

STATE OF WASHINGTON

DIVISION I

Case #: 1036833

MESHAL EL GAMIA

Petitioner,

Case No. 86222-7

-vs-

MICHAEL J. ROMOSER, et al

Respondent.

Plaintiff's Motion to Enlarge the Time to File

Petition for Discretionary Review

COMES NOW, Petitioner, Meshal El Gamia, in pro se, and respectfully moves this Honorable Court for an Order enlarging the time to include March 1, 2025, to file a Petition for Discretionary Review by the Washington State Supreme Court. In furtherance of his motion, Petitioner states the following.

Facts

On November 25, 2024, in an unpublished opinion, this Court affirmed the Superior Court's Summary Judgment Order Dismissing Petitioner/Plaintiff's lawsuit with prejudice. However, in concurring with his colleagues, the Honorable Leonard J. Feldman raise an issue (among other things) of substantial public interest that should be determined by the Supreme Court:

“Here, for example, El Gamia could potentially argue that a reasonably carefully person in the same or similar circumstances would take precautions (such as closing the door) to protect property entrants from being rushed by large pets. Whether to adopt such a test in place of the traditional common law duties owed by an owner or occupier of land is an issue that should be determined by our Supreme Court.”

With this observation, I respectfully concur:

Justice Feldman concurring opinion at p.3.

Request

In light of Justice Feldman so eloquent and substance concurring opinion basically requesting the Supreme Court to hear Petitioner’s case. Granting his motion to enlarge the time to include March 1, 2025, should not be considered a waste of this Court’s time, and thus, this motion is being filed in good faith.

Respectfully submitted by

Meshal El Gamia

Certificate of Service

I, Meshal El Gamia, Petitioner herein, do hereby certify that a true and correct copy of the foregoing motion was place in a U. S. Mail Depository with sufficient postage attached and mailed to:
