DMCJA Rules Committee

Wednesday, December 18, 2019 (Noon – 1:00 p.m.)

Via Teleconference

MEETING MINUTES

Members:

Chair, Judge Goodwin
~~Judge Buttorff~~
Judge Campagna
Judge Eisenberg
~~Commissioner Hanlon~~
~~Judge Oaks~~
~~Commissioner O'Sullivan~~
~~Judge Samuelson~~
Ms. Patti Kohler, DMCMA Liaison
~~Ms. Melanie Conn, DMCMA Liaison~~

AOC Staff:

Ms. J Benway

Guest:

Judge Sam Meyer, President, DMCJA

Judge Goodwin called the meeting to order at 12:04 p.m.

The Committee discussed the following items:

1. Welcome & Introductions

Judge Goodwin welcomed the Committee members in attendance, as well as guest Judge Meyer, President of the DMCJA.

2. Approve Minutes from the November 27, 2019 Rules Committee Meeting

It was motioned, seconded, and passed to approve the minutes from the November 27, 2019 Rules Committee meeting. Judge Campagna abstained. The approved minutes will be provided to the DMCJA Board.

3. Discuss Emergency Amendment to CrRLJ 3.2.1 in Response to *State of WA v. Stevens County

Judge Meyer, DMCJA President, attended the Committee meeting to discuss the recent Washington State Supreme Court decision State of Washington v. Stevens County, which appears to undermine the authority of district courts to control their own dockets. Judge Meyer requested that the Rules Committee consider an amendment to CrRLJ 3.2.1, discussed in the opinion, to address potentially problematic consequences of the decision. Judge Meyer offered to assist in formulating the Rules Committee's response to the issue. Judge Goodwin appointed a subcommittee consisting of Judge Meyer, Judge Eisenberg and Judge Goodwin to consider the matter. Ms. Benway will schedule a phone meeting for the subcommittee in the new year. This item will be continued to the next Rules Committee meeting.

4. Discuss Proposal to Add GR 38 and Amend RPC 4.4

The Committee reviewed coalition-sponsored proposals to add a new general rule to address immigration enforcement and to amend RPC 4.4 pertaining to the rights of third persons, which have been published for comment by the Washington State Supreme Court with a comment deadline of February 3, 2020. The Committee determined that it was unlikely that the new proposed GR 38 would significantly impact operations in courts of limited jurisdiction so the Rules Committee took no position on the proposal. Similarly, the proposal to amend RPC 4.4 is outside the scope of the purview of the Rules Committee, so the Committee has no comment on that proposal. Ms. Benway will convey to the DMCJA Board that the Rules Committee has no recommendation on these proposals.

5. Discuss Proposals to Amend Rules Pertaining to the Death Penalty

Ms. Benway stated that the WSSC proposed amendments to court rules pertaining to representation in death penalty cases, including eliminating references to capital cases in the rules for courts of limited jurisdiction. The comment deadline for these proposals is April 30, 2020. The Committee discussed the proposals and concluded that there was no impact on courts of limited jurisdiction. Ms. Benway will convey that information to the DMCJA Board.

6. Discuss Upcoming Projects

Judge Goodwin stated that he was interested in developing a systematic process for considering potential amendments to the CLJ rules, similar to that undertaken by the WSBA Rules Committee under the auspices of GR 9. Under that approach, the DMCJA Rules Committee would designate certain years to review the various CLJ rules, e.g., the CRLJ would be reviewed in 2020. Judge Goodwin also suggested that the Committee employ the DMCJA Legislative Committee's method of soliciting the DMCJA membership annually for requests for rules amendments. The Committee agreed to consider this approach. This item will be continued to the next Rules Committee meeting.

7. Other Business and Next Meeting Date

The next Committee meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, January 22, 2020 at noon via teleconference.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 12:51 p.m.

TO: Judge Sam Meyer, President, DMCJA Board
FROM: Judge Jeffrey Goodwin, Chair, DMCJA Rules Committee
SUBJECT: Proposed Amendments to CrRLJ 3.2.1
DATE: March 3, 2020

The recent Washington State Supreme Court decision of State of Washington v. Stevens Co. District Court Judge, 453 P.3d 984 (Dec. 12, 2019), interpreted CrRLJ 3.2.1 in a manner that is problematic for district courts in the State of Washington. The Court essentially held that the first sentence of CrRLJ 3.2.1 authorizes a superior court to take over preliminary appearances from a district court. Not only is this interpretation at odds with the fundamental understanding of separate trial courts in Washington but it is creating very real problems for the Stevens County District Court and its litigants.

In response to the decision, the DMCJA Rules Committee appointed a Subcommittee to discuss the matter and consider whether a rule amendment would be helpful. The Subcommittee drafted a proposed rule amendment and GR 9 Cover Sheet that ultimately were unanimously approved by the Rules Committee. For the reasons provided in the attached GR 9 Cover Sheet, the Rules Committee urges the DMCJA Board to request an expedited amendment to CrRLJ 3.2.1.

GR 9 COVER SHEET
Suggested Amendment to
WASHINGTON STATE COURT RULES:
CRIMINAL RULES FOR COURTS OF LIMITED JURISDICTION

Amend RULE 3.2.1(d)
PROCEDURE FOLLOWING WARRANTLESS ARREST-PRELIMINARY HEARING

Submitted by the District & Municipal Courts Judges Association

---

- A. Name of Proponent: District & Municipal Courts Judges Association
(DMCJA)
- B. Spokesperson: Judge Samuel G. Meyer, President
DMCJA
- C. Purpose: The DMCJA recommends amending CrRLJ 3.2.1(d), pertaining to preliminary appearances in courts of limited jurisdiction. The recent case of State of Washington vs. Stevens County District Court Judge, (No. 97071-8) essentially held that superior courts may, upon demand and without permission or authorization of the district court, hear preliminary appearance hearings for misdemeanors and gross misdemeanors for cases originally filed in the county district court. Because this has the potential to, and indeed has disrupted district court practice, the proposed rule amendment is necessary.

For the following policy and practical reasons, the DMCJA requests that CrRLJ 3.2.1(d) be amended to make clear that misdemeanor and gross misdemeanor cases filed in district and municipal courts will be heard by district and municipal court judges. Felony complaints filed in district courts remained governed by CrRLJ 3.2.1(g).

The practice ordained by State of Washington vs. Stevens County District Court Judge and now ingrained in CrRLJ 3.2.1 appears to be unique to Stevens County. The DMCJA is not aware of any other superior court in any other county in the State of Washington that has ever attempted to take over preliminary appearance hearings for non-felony cases originally filed in district courts without permission or authorization. This judicially created exception to the rule followed by other every other county is confusing to defendants as well as the public. For example, not all district and superior courts convene in the same building or even in the same city. It would be confusing to a defendant to be arrested on a charge filed in district court, have a preliminary appearance in superior court (which could be in a different location) and then have all subsequent hearings in district court. Yet this scenario is likely under the current interpretation of CrRLJ 3.2.1.

The consequences of this novel approach is frustrating for Stevens County litigants and the public. In all jurisdictions, district and municipal courts set their own hours and set their own schedules and calendars. In addition to county wide cases, Stevens County district court handles court services for three municipalities. Individual private attorneys contract with the county and the separate municipalities to provide public defense services. It is not uncommon for a defendant to have multiple cases pending in district court from both state and municipal court jurisdictions. District court administration has always taken great care to make sure that, whenever possible, public defense attorneys can represent a defendant in all of his/her cases. Because superior court apparently disregards these considerations in its handling district court cases, superior court has scheduled defendants on the wrong day and time and on calendars where their defense attorney was not scheduled to appear.

In these instances, the cases are typically required to be reset and/or an attorney reassigned and the defendant and his or her family are confused and frustrated because of wasted trips to court. It is important to remember that for many public defense clients, jobs are hard to come by and simply taking a morning or afternoon off of work to make court can be a very big sacrifice.

Another consideration is that it is also not clear whether superior court has the authority preside over municipal cases handled by district court. Municipalities have the ability to contract with cities and/or counties to handle municipal court services. See RCW 3.50.815. The cities of Kettle Falls, Colville and Chewelah have contracted with Stevens County to have district court and not superior court handle court services for those cities.

Superior court taking over preliminary appearances also impacts the district court's ability to set its own schedule and calendars. This is currently happening in Stevens County. Rather than setting calendars and staffing court calendars in real time as things develop, the district court must now wait for superior court's substantive and scheduling decisions before it can get information to the public and the litigants, resulting in delay and frustration for all involved as well as extra work for district court staff. Additionally, district court probation staff does not attend superior court proceedings and as a result are unable to provide critical information to the judicial officer which could affect conditions of release.

The practice of superior courts taking over all district court preliminary hearings could also be subject to abuse. Judicial positions are allocated based on judicial needs of the jurisdiction. It is possible that superior courts could take over preliminary hearings in district courts to inflate hearing numbers and justify requests for additional judicial officers. The practice of superior court handling district court preliminary appearances could also have an adverse effect on the accuracy of counting and weighting public defense needs in Stevens County district court.

It would also appear that Stevens county superior court is acting beyond the scope of the court's decision. The case of State of Washington vs. Stevens County District Court Judge deals with a single issue and that issue is laid out in the first sentence of the opinion: "This case asks us to determine whether a superior court may conduct preliminary appearance hearings for misdemeanors and gross misdemeanors originally filed in district court." Apparently however, Stevens County Superior Court is contending that it has the authority to "command" the District Court to "accept, file, and comply with all orders signed by a Stevens County Superior Court Judge or Stevens County Superior Court Commissioner in a Stevens County criminal matter, including but not limited to Rule 3.2 Hearing Orders Conditions of Release, Warrants, or Orders Quashing Warrants." See Attachment 1 (Proposed writ). The district court recognized that the proposed writ of the state was overbroad and entered its own writ. See Attachment 2 (Order for writ).

As of this writing, Stevens County Superior Court is still presiding over all in-custody hearings whether or not they are brought under CrRLJ 3.2.1. It is important to remember that while all cases brought to court pursuant to CrRLJ 3.2.1 are in-custody hearings, there are other in-custody hearings separate and apart from CrRLJ 3.2.1 which the case of State of Washington vs. Stevens County District Court Judge did not address.

In the practice currently employed by Stevens County superior court, a defendant could be summonsed into court, released on personal recognizance, subsequently plead guilty to some offense, be placed on probation, be supervised by a probation officer and then, several months down the line, violate probation and have a warrant issued for his or her arrest. At the time the warrant in this hypothetical case is issued, the defendant would not have spent a minute in jail. When the defendant is arrested on the warrant, however, the defendant will be held in jail and brought before the court for an in-custody hearing not pursuant to CrRLJ 3.2.1. And while this scenario is hypothetical, it is not uncommon. It would make absolutely no sense for that defendant to be brought before a superior court judge to determine the best course of action when the entire history of the case has taken place in a different court in front of a different judge and having been supervised by a probation officer who is not available to provide insight into this particular defendant.

The simple rule change being requested reflects the current practice in 38 of the 39 counties in Washington. It would provide clarity, eliminate confusion and reduce frustration for the public, district court staff as well as defendants. In the other 38 counties, courts work together on scheduling issues. District and superior court can and sometimes do make each other pro tems in their respective courts. However, the concept of concurrent jurisdiction should not allow one court to assert ownership over another court's cases.

D. Hearing: A hearing is not recommended.

E. Expedited Consideration: Expedited consideration is requested given the on-going impact on court operations and the potential deleterious impact on litigants and district courts.

Proposed Amendment:

RULE 3.2.1

PROCEDURE FOLLOWING WARRANTLESS ARREST-PRELIMINARY HEARING

(a) – (c) [no change]

(d) Preliminary appearance.

(1) Adult. ~~Unless an accused has appeared or will appear before the superior court for a preliminary appearance,~~ Once a misdemeanor or gross misdemeanor case has been filed in a court of limited jurisdiction, any accused detained in jail must be brought before a court of limited jurisdiction as soon as practicable after the detention is commenced, but in any event before the close of business on the next court day.

STEVENS COUNTY DISTRICT COURT
JUDGE AND STEVENS COUNTY
DISTRICT COURT,

Respondent.

No. 18-200062-7

ORDER FOR PEREMPTORY WRIT OF MANDAMUS

THIS PEREMPTORY WRIT OF MANDAMUS having come on for entry of the Peremptory Writ pursuant to the Opinion and Mandate of the Washington Supreme Court issued on January 15, 2020;

AND THIS COURT having read the Washington State Supreme Court's decision and mandate, the petitioner's proposed Peremptory Writ of Mandamus prepared by its deputy prosecutor, Will Ferguson, the respondent's [Proposed] Order on Writ of Mandamus and Objection to Petitioner's [Proposed] Order on Writ of Mandamus prepared by its attorney, Jerry Moberg, and hearing the arguments of counsel on February 14, 2020, and not having an opportunity to read respondent's proposed order and objection filed earlier that day had thereby elected at the conclusion of the hearing to take the matter under advisement, and now having read same and being fully advised finds the following:

1. The petitioner's proposed writ references ". . . all orders signed by a Stevens County Superior Court Judge or Stevens County Superior Court Commissioner in a Stevens County criminal matter, . . ." and petitioner's attorney confirmed at the presentment hearing that such writs were intended to include all defendants being held in custody.

2. This court understood at the hearing on February 28, 2018 that the petitioner was seeking to include in its writ all defendants who were being held in custody and specifically addressed this issue on page 6 of its Memorandum Opinion when it wrote:

Furthermore, if a superior court could sign orders in the district court whenever a district court defendant is in custody and needs to be brought before the court, it could cause uncertainty and inconsistency, and may cause a conflict if the defendant files an appeal to the superior court.

It should be noted that these preliminary proceedings do not address arraignments in district courts, failure of the defendant to comply with conditions of release in district courts, subsequent arrests or any other hearings when the defendant may be in custody and then brought before the district court.

3. There is nothing in the written decision of the Supreme Court or of the Court of Appeals that had approved petitioner's position to include all defendants being held in custody or even suggested it.
4. It does not appear that the petitioner had ever argued to the Court of Appeals or to the Supreme Court that the proposed writ was ever intended to apply to situations other than preliminary appearances. In fact, the Court of Appeals decision cited "preliminary appearance" hearings 18 times and cited "preliminary hearing" orders and "first appearances" another 13 times; and the Supreme Court decision cited "preliminary appearance" hearings 28 times. Neither decision suggested that such writs should include all in custody. Had such an argument been made, this court believes it would have failed.
5. As correctly cited by Mr. Moberg, the first sentence of the Supreme Court's decision addressed the issue as follows, "This case asks us to determine whether a superior court may conduct preliminary appearance hearings for misdemeanors and gross misdemeanors originally filed in district court." and under its "CONCLUSION" held "We hold the Superior Court may preside over preliminary appearance hearings for misdemeanors and gross misdemeanors originally filed in the District Court." That court's initial framing of the issue and its holding were limited to preliminary appearances, and its opinion did not provide authority for the Superior Court to hear all defendants being held in custody on District Court charges.

6. Finally, addressing Mr. Ferguson's prior correspondences in seeking the writ, this court takes note of the following:

- a. this court was not confused but had requested he first sign the proposed writ as counsel before presenting the order;
- b. Mr. Moberg likely did not have any level of confusion when he objected to the proposed writ as overly broad and inconsistent with the ruling and mandate;
- c. Mr. Ferguson's statement "There is no need for presentment." was mistaken as his proposed writ appeared to be overly broad and expansive; and when there appears to be a disagreement between the parties, simply setting the matter for presentment will resolve any dispute.
- d. Mr. Ferguson's following command to this court, "The Supreme Court ordered you to enter the Peremptory Writ and the Supreme Court's order will be obeyed." was not only without authority but also disrespectful; and
- e. Mr. Ferguson's subsequent statement that "I am dismayed at the level of confusion here, but the silver lining is that a presentment hearing will make a much better record for what appears to be a nearly-inevitable RAP 12.9 Motion." erroneously suggests that this court does not intend to comply with the Supreme Court's mandate.

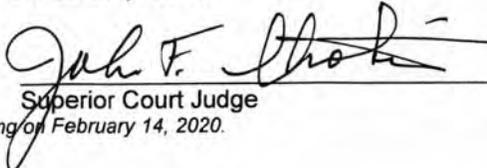

Based on the foregoing, this court does hereby:

ORDER That the Stevens County District Court shall accept for filings those orders signed by the Stevens County Superior Court judges and commissioners from preliminary appearance hearings for misdemeanors and gross misdemeanors in cases originally filed in said district court.

The Washington State Supreme Court recently published for comment several rules-related proposals<sup>1</sup>. I reviewed all the proposals and then, per its charges, the DMCJA Rules Committee reviewed the ones most pertinent to courts of limited jurisdiction. Instead of preparing a separate memo for each proposal, the Committee determined it would be more efficient to convey the Committee's recommendations in a single memo.

APR 26	No Position	Adds requirement for attorney malpractice insurance.
CR 30	No Objection	Amends deposition rules which are applicable to Courts of Limited Jurisdiction through CRLJ 26. The proposed rule change provides for remote administration of oath and clarifies timelines for notice.
CrRLJ 1.3 DMCJA Proposed	Support	This proposal eliminates unnecessary language in the current rule. This is a DMCJA proposal vetted through the Rules Committed and submitted by the DMCJA Board.
CrRLJ 3.1 WSBA Proposed	No Objection	This WSBA proposal addresses indigent caseload standards for civil commitment proceedings. There is no anticipated impact on DMCJA Courts. The Rules Committee did not see the need to amend CrRLJ 3.1 as our courts are not hearing civil commitment proceedings. This amendment would keep CrRLJ 3.1 consistent with CrR 3.1.
CrRLJ 3.1(f) WDA Proposal	Oppose	This Washington Defender Association proposal would change a request for funds from a discretionary ex parte request to mandatory. There is no need to change the current rule. The concerns set out in the GR 9 cover sheet for the proposed amendment can all be addressed with a request from defense counsel for an ex parte review. The Rules Committee was concerned about removing defense counsel's discretion in making the CrRLJ 3.1(f) request.

http://www.courts.wa.gov/court\_rules/?fa=court\_rules.proposedDetails&proposedId=2138

CrRLJ 3.4 WDA Proposed	Oppose	This amendment would allow a defendant to appear through counsel at most hearings before and after trial unless the Court prepares a written order identifying the basis for requiring the defendant’s physical presence. The Committee identified a non-exhaustive list of concerns with the proposal: (1) No rule change is required because the court already has the authority to waive the presence of the defendant on a case-by-case basis. The hardships resulting from court appearances advanced by the proponent can therefore be mitigated when necessary. (2) Because a criminal defendant has a constitutional right to be present at all critical stages of a proceeding, for every pre-trial hearing, the court would be required to determine whether anything occurring or potentially occurring might involve a critical stage of the proceedings for which the defendant has the right to appear. (3) The court would need to determine whether the waiver of appearance presented by counsel adequately addresses the waiver of a constitutional right. If the court determines that the defendant’s presence is necessary, the court would need to prepare a written order setting forth good cause to require the defendant’s personal attendance and the defendant would need to be summonsed. (4) Given that the court would be issuing substantially more summonses rather than a defendant signing for a court date and being given a copy of the written notice, it will likely result in more, rather than fewer, bench warrants. (5) If the rule also presumably applies to probation review hearings, for every review hearing, the court would need to complete a written order identifying good cause for the defendant’s personal appearance. If not, counsel could appear with a waiver of the defendant’s appearance and the court would then need to prepare the written order setting forth good cause for the defendant’s personal appearance and the defendant would then need to be summonsed again. (6) This proposal would result in additional Court hearings for criminal proceedings. This proposal will not solve the issues addressed in the proponent’s GR 9 cover sheet and will inject delay and uncertainty into the process of criminal hearings. The Committee is opposed to this proposed amendment.

CrRLJ 8.2 WSBA Proposed	Majority of Committee Opposes.	This WSBA proposal would add CRLJ 59 Reconsideration to CrRLJ 8.2 addressing motions. A majority of the Rules Committee opposed this proposal. Some Committee members supported the addition. Opposition Position <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. There is no need to change the rule because the Court already has the inherent discretion to permit review of any ruling during the course of course of criminal proceedings.</li> <li>2. There is no conflict in current case law regarding reconsideration. Under State Keller, 32 Wn. App. 135, 139 (1982), there is no authority for the contention that CRLJ 59 applies to criminal cases. The remedy for error of law if appeal. Hurley v. Wilson, 129 Wash. 567 (1924); Jones v. Babcock, 116 Wash. 424 (1921).</li> </ol> In their GR 9 coversheet, the WSBA cites to State v. Batsell, 198 Wn. App. 1066 (2017) (Unpublished) for the proposition that CRLJ 59 Reconsideration is permitted in criminal proceedings. First of all, Batsell is unpublished which indicates no precedential value. Second, the two cases cited in Batsell don't support the extension of CRLJ 59 to criminal proceedings. In State v. Englund, 186 Wn. App 444 (2015), the defendant sought to represent himself. The court denied the motion and appointed counsel. Counsel then renewed the motion for self-representation. The Englund court uses the term reconsideration, but no CR 59 analysis was applied. Defense counsel's request was simply a renewed motion for self-representation. In State v. Chaussee, 77 Wn. App. 803 (1995), the question before the court was not whether CR 59 was permitted, but whether in light of the trial court's decision to permit CR 59 reconsideration, did the appeal timelines change. Nothing in Batsell supersedes the express holding in Keller that CR 59 reconsideration does not apply to criminal proceedings <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>3. Existing Court Rules already allow the Court to review its own decisions under CrRLJ 7.4, 7.5 and 7.8.</li> </ol>

		4. Proposed rule adopts CRLJ 59(b) (timelines for filing), CRLJ 59(e) (hearing procedures) and CRLJ 59(j) (reconsideration is requested before judgment) and does not specify what Court actions would be subject to reconsideration. Potentially every action of the court is subject to reconsideration, although error of would seem the most likely. Supporting Position Many of our colleagues have permitted review of their decisions under a reconsideration process even through the rules don't specifically permit such. Those supporting the amendment liked the opportunity to correct a potential error before RALJ review. Those supporting the amendment also liked clarity gained by adoption of the timelines and procedures if reconsideration were permitted.
GR 7 WSACC Proposed	Oppose as Written	This is a Washington State Association of County Clerks proposal that adds requirements for notice and publication of local rules. The Rules Committee supports notice and comment for proposed local rules. Most jurisdictions already engage in some type of discussion with affected users when a new local rule is proposed. The proposed rule requires notice to the local bar, the county prosecutor, the county clerk, the county public defender and notice to the court's website for 30 days. This amendment does not apply to many limited jurisdiction courts. For example, in a smaller municipality, noticing the county prosecutor, public defender and clerk would serve no purpose. Some smaller jurisdictions have a less formalized bar association and may not maintain a web presence. The proposed amendment would need to be re-written to be applicable to limited jurisdiction courts or limited to Superior Courts local rulemaking only.
GR 29 DMCJA Proposed	Support	This proposal preserves the independence of appointed municipal court judges. This is a DMCJA proposal vetted through the Rules Committed and submitted by the DMCJA Board.
GR 31	Support	This proposal furthers the goals of therapeutic courts by limiting public access to assessment and treatment reports.

CHIEF JUSTICE MARY FAIRHURST NATIONAL LEADERSHIP GRANT GUIDELINES

It shall be the policy of the Washington State District and Municipal Court Judges' Association (DMCJA) to acknowledge the benefit to the Association and its members of having its members in attendance at national judges' groups and conferences that impact the judiciary in the State of Washington. These benefits include national education, leadership training, one-on-one information exchange, and recognition for the programs and leadership of the DMCJA.

The DMCJA shall annually budget for attendees at such national judges' groups and conferences. The DMCJA Board of Governors shall select the attendees. To be eligible for consideration, the applicant must (1) be, or agree to become, a member of the applicable national organization; and (2) be in either a leadership position with the DMCJA or the applicable national organization; and (3) be a member of the DMCJA in good standing as defined in DMCJA Bylaws. Leadership position includes, but is not limited to, officer, board member, or committee chair.

In determining the selection of the attendees to such national meetings or conferences, the DMCJA Board of Governors shall consider the following non-exclusive criteria of the applicant:

1. The applicant shall engage in judicial education at the national level;
2. The applicant shall take educational opportunities and program developed at the national level and bring them back to the State of Washington;
3. The applicant shall take educational opportunities and programs developed on the state level and take them to the national level; and
4. The applicant shall demonstrate his or her ability to exchange and share innovative ideas to improve the function and operation of the courts in the State of Washington.
5. The applicant shall be a member in good standing of the DMCJA at the time of application as provided by DMCJA Bylaws.

The amount of expense reimbursement shall be in the discretion of the DMCJA Board of Governors, to be set as part of the annual budget.

Renamed the “Chief Justice Mary Fairhurst National Leadership Grant” in November 2019 by DMCJA Board of Governors, in honor of Chief Justice Mary Fairhurst.

CALL TO ORDER

Judge Meyer, District and Municipal Court Judges' Association (DMCJA) President, noted a quorum was present and called the DMCJA Board of Governors (Board) meeting to order at approximately 12:30 p.m. Judge Meyer asked meeting attendees to introduce themselves.

GENERAL BUSINESS

A. Minutes

The Board moved, seconded, and passed a vote (M/S/P) to approve the Board Minutes for December 13, 2019.

B. Treasurer's Report

Judge Meyer reported that the US Bank savings account is now closed and the seventy-thousand nine hundred forty-six dollars ($70,946) from the account has been transferred to the Bank of America (BoA) savings account. Judge Gehlsen explained that the US Bank account was opened when banking rules only allowed a certain amount of funds in the BoA savings account. These banking rules have changed, and, therefore, there is no need to have a separate savings account at US Bank. Additionally, Commissioner Leo, DMCJA Treasurer, reported that he has received dues from approximately seventy percent of the membership. He further reported about a DMCJA Treasurer duty to complete both the L-1, Lobbyist Registration, and L-3, Lobbyist Employer's Annual Report. He reminded members that both forms must be completed and thanked Sharon Harvey, AOC Primary Staff for the DMCJA, for ensuring that this process had been completed for the past five years.

C. Special Fund Report

Judge Meyer directed Board members to review the Special Fund report located in the meeting packet. Approval of this report is deferred to the next meeting that Judge Short, DMCJA Special Fund Custodian, is available to attend.

D. Standing Committee Reports

1. Legislative Committee

Commissioner Wohl, DMCJA Legislative Committee Chair, reported on bills addressed by the committee. He first informed of bills proposed by the DMCJA, which are as follows:

- Affidavit of Prejudice (Notice of Disqualification) - House Bill (HB) 1305

This bill would change, “affidavit of prejudice” language to “Notice of Disqualification” for consistency with the Superior Court statute. The amendment would (1) allow a disqualified judge to conduct arraignment and set conditions of release, and (2) allow a disqualified judge to serve upon agreement of parties. This bill did not move forward.

- Discover Pass – HB 1293

This bill seeks to keep monies collected from Discover Pass violations local; initially, all money stayed local from discover pass violations; however, the state receives all revenue now; the Committee for a number of years has been trying to introduce a split of funds between the state and local government. This is primarily important for the smaller counties such as Skamania and Pacific counties. The current bill has the 75/25 split, in which 75% of the discover pass violation fee revenue is deposited into the state’s Recreation Access Pass Account and 25% of the funds are retained locally. Melanie Stewart, DMCJA lobbyist, is continuing to encourage legislators to pass the bill.

- Interlocal Agreements for Probation Services – HB 2605 (Bill Number for 2018 Session)

This bill would allow courts to enter interlocal agreements for probation services. This bill was not introduced this session but is set to be introduced next year. In 2018, this bill was introduced but failed to pass the Legislature.

- Small Claims – HB 2295

This bill amends HB 1048, Small Claims Judgment, which was proposed by the DMCJA and passed the 2019 Legislature. The request is to amend RCW 12.40.105 to allow a 30 day appeal window before a judgment is issued to the defendant. This bill has passed the House and is set to pass the Senate for final passage of the Legislature.

- Competency Statutes

- a. RCW 10.77.068 - Amendment request to (a) align statutory timelines with those set forth in Trueblood v. Washington State Department of Social and Health Services, 73 F.Supp.3d 1311 (2014), and (b) render bases for continuances in the statute consistent with Trueblood.
- b. RCW 10.77.010 (13) - Amendment request to define history of violent actions to include non-exclusive list of types of evidence Court may consider; RCW 10.77.088 amendment request to add a standard for determining whether a defendant has a history of violent acts
- c. RCW 10.77.088 - Amendment request to eliminate renumbering confusion related to RCW 10.77.088(3) pursuant to 2ESSB 5444 and SB 5205

Commissioner Wohl reported that this bill failed to receive a sponsor, thus, it was not introduced this Session because Senator Manka Dhingra does not think the bill is necessary. Melanie Stewart, DMCJA Lobbyist, and Judge Finkle, who proposed the bills, continue to work with Senator Dhingra and other legislators regarding the matter.

The following are other bills of interest to the DMCJA:

- HB 2567 (Courts/arrests) – This bill is a response to arrests of non-citizens in and around state courthouses by federal agents. Chief Justice Mary Fairhurst, during her time in office, made a request to state presiding judges to do all they can do to ensure that local courthouses and courtrooms remain open and accessible to all seeking justice from the judicial branch. DMCJA supports the bill with minor concerns regarding technical aspects. The modified version eliminates judicial problems, and, thus removes previous concerns. This bill continues to move through the Legislature. The Board for Judicial Administration's (BJA's) Legislative Committee has a point of contention with the bill, namely, the technical aspects create a heavy burden on the judicial system that should not be our burden. Judge Ringus, BJA Legislative Chair, suggested that judges may be individually liable for not fully complying with the bill. Board members, however, noted that this suggestion is not stated in any version of the bill. The BJA has supported the concept and principle but remains concerned about actual implementation of the bill, such as increased duties for court staff and for AOC to generate forms. There was also the suggestion that the Executive branch should perform the duties expected of the Judicial branch in the bill.

- HB 2622 (Firearm orders compliance) – This bill relates to firearm surrender orders, and, seeks to ensure compliance with orders after they are issued. The DMCJA supports the concept of the bill but had concerns about the different processes regarding contempt proceedings. There were multiple versions of the bill, and, the current version eliminates problematic language regarding the court initiating contempt proceedings instead of the prosecutors. Additionally, defendants were asked to perform acts that would violate their 5th Amendment rights. The issue has impacted many association members in that judges are initiating search warrants. This bill is likely to pass the Legislature.
- HB 2644 (AI-enabled profiling) – This bill relates to artificial Intelligence profiling. It concerns the DMCJA because the association wants to make sure that judges are not inadvertently prohibited from using risk assessment tools. Judge Logan, co-chair of the Pretrial Reform Task Force, informed the Board that the Pretrial Justice Institute (PJI) has backed away from supporting risk assessment tools because of its racial impacts. The bill is likely not to pass the Legislature.
- SB 6438 (Public records act/judiciary) – This bill seeks to make the Judiciary subject to the Public Records Act (PRA). The bill appears to be a response to Associated Press v. Washington State Legislature, 454 P.3d 93 (2019), which held that the Legislature and legislators are subject to the PRA. The DMCJA opposes the bill because General Rule 31 and General Rule 31.1 satisfy public records requests for the Judicial Branch. This bill did not pass the Senate, thus, it has failed to pass the Legislature.
- HB 2863 (Therapeutic alternatives) – This bill was created to provide funding for therapeutic courts in district and municipal courts. The idea was formed from meetings in November 2019 that included DMCJA Therapeutic Courts Co-Chairs, DMCJA President, Therapeutic Court judges, the State Court Administrator, AOC Legislative Relations Associate Director, and other interested guests. DMCJA representatives requested funding for therapeutic courts that is not taken from the Criminal Justice Treatment Account (CJTA). The bill, however, states that funds for district and municipal courts will be taken from the CJTA because monies swept by the account has been used for homeless populations. Hence, at 4:00 p.m. today, Representative Lauren Davis, primary bill sponsor, will meet with Judge Scott Ahlf, Olympia Municipal Court, Melanie Stewart, DMCJA Lobbyist, Judge Samuel Meyer, DMCJA President, and Commissioner Paul Wohl, DMCJA Legislative Committee Chair, to further discuss the bill and express that DMCJA does not want to take funds from the CJTA, which is the primary source of funding for drug courts, which are primarily located in Superior Court. Commissioner Wohl expressed that legislators are supportive and eager to assist district and municipal therapeutic courts.
- HB 2793 (Criminal records/vacation aka "Clean Slate Act") – This bill provides for an automated process to vacate certain convictions. Legislative requirements in the bill are challenging for the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC). The current bill language causes the process of vacating to occur without the prosecutor or defendant, which will greatly increase caseloads. The bill has a "contested" vacation provision. Here, the burden is on the AOC to conduct an analysis to see whether a defendant meets the criteria to vacate a criminal record. The AOC has expressed that its agency currently lacks the resources to perform the duty.

2. Rules

The Rules Committee provided the Board with a memorandum regarding (1) Rules Proposals related to Immigration Enforcement, and (2) Rules Proposals related to the Death Penalty. The Rules Committee has taken no position on either rule because (a) the Immigration Enforcement rule is outside the scope of the Committee's purview, and (b) the death penalty has no substantive impact on courts of limited jurisdiction. J Benway, AOC Staff for the DMCJA Rules Committee, was present via telephone for any questions regarding the Committee's memorandum. The rule discussion raised concerns about House Bill 2567, which relates to the Immigration Enforcement rule because it seeks to protect non-citizens when visiting state courthouses. Judge Coburn, DMJCA representative on the Supreme Court Minority and Justice Commission, encouraged members not to become distracted with technicalities and to focus on the purpose of the bill. Judge Ringus cautioned that technicalities in the bill may be difficult to fix once the bill is enacted and compared it to the Uniform Guardianship Act that recently passed the Legislature. Judge Gehlsen expressed that the concerns in the bill will likely be corrected prior to the passage of the bill. Judge Meyer expressed that the Judiciary is united in supporting the concept of both the rule and the bill related to immigration enforcement, which seeks to make all court customers safe when visiting state courthouses. The DMCJA will take no action on either the Death Penalty rule or Immigration Enforcement rule. The association has taken a position on HB 2567, however, which is to support it with concerns related to how the bill may be implemented.

E. Judicial Information System (JIS) Report

Ms. Cullinane reported on the Courts of Limited Jurisdiction Case Management System (CLJ-CMS) Project. She informed the Board that the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) is still in negotiations with Tyler Technologies, which is the chosen vendor for the new CLJ case management system. A contract is expected to be approved by April 2020. Ms. Cullinane further reported that the Court User Work Group (CUWG) has resumed meeting and are now beginning the process of analyzing the gaps between our needs and the out-of-the-box product. On the recommendation of the CUWG, the CLJ-CMS Project Steering Committee (PSC) made a decision to eliminate the jury management feature because, although Tyler has the module, the costs of the feature outweighed its benefit. However, because jury management is software-as-a-service, it can be added later. Ms. Cullinane reported that the Project plans to roll out the pilots about eighteen months from contract signing. Immediately following the pilot rollout, there will be a six month stabilization period. The following were chosen as pilot courts: (1) Pierce County District Court, (2) Tacoma Municipal Court, (3) Fircrest/Ruston Municipal Court, and (4) Gig Harbor Municipal Court. In selecting the group of pilot courts, the CLJ-CMS Project considered a number of important factors: courts that cover multiple jurisdictions, courts with a broad variety of case types, both large and small courts, and proximity to AOC. It is important to cover as many different scenarios as possible with the pilot courts, and to have the stabilization period, to make the rest of the rollout go more smoothly. Full statewide implementation of the new CLJ-CMS is expected to take approximately five years. Judge Meyer thanked Ms. Cullinane and DMCJA judicial officers who have dedicated hundreds of hours to the CLJ-CMS Project, which is the association's number one priority.

Secondly, Ms. Cullinane reported on the plan to implement e-filing for limited jurisdiction courts ahead of the rest Odyssey rollout. The benefits of implementing e-filing first are that it familiarizes users and court staff with electronic documents, and it reduces the number of documents that will need to be scanned into Odyssey later.

Thirdly, Ms. Cullinane reported on AOC efforts to improve the data errors caused by the data exchanges between differently structured applications. The first is the AOC project to link Odyssey directly to the Enterprise Data Repository (EDR), which is the first step in being able to shut off the current data exchange going directly between Odyssey and JIS. There is also a project to break up names into first, middle, and last, which will increase data accuracy. And lastly, AOC is working on other ways to improve person matching in the EDR. At present, only King County Superior Court is transferring data to the EDR, but in the future more courts with their own case management systems will transfer data to the statewide system through the EDR.

Ms. Cullinane received inquiries from the Board regarding the following: (1) electronic filing, (2) document sharing amongst all courts of limited jurisdiction, (3) public access to electronic documents, and (4) whether access to all court documents will be free. Ms. Cullinane explained the differences between the issues related to document sharing between limited jurisdiction courts and limited jurisdiction judicial officers' access to Odyssey superior court documents. Regarding access to King County Superior Court documents, Judge Meyer reported that he and Judge Robertson had a conference call with Barbara Miner, King County Clerk, and Judge James Rogers, King County Superior Court (KCSC) Presiding Judge. During this meeting, Ms. Miner and Judge Rogers explained that document sharing is governed by county rule or ordinance, which state that courts have to pay for access, with the exception of King County District Court. Judge Meyer inquired whether the ordinance may be changed to provide free access to all judges needing crucial information to perform their judicial duties. Ms. Miner and Judge Rogers informed that they will discuss the matter internally and get back with Judge Meyer and Judge Robertson. Ms. Cullinane also informed that she will work with Curtis Dunn, AOC JIS Business Liaison for the Superior Court CMS, to track the issue.

LIAISON REPORTS

A. Board for Judicial Administration (BJA)

Judge Logan and Judge Ringus, DMCJA representatives on the BJA, reported on various topics relating to the BJA. The last meeting was in November 2019. The next BJA meeting is February 21, 2020 at the AOC SeaTac Office. For more information about the BJA please visit the following web link:

https://www.courts.wa.gov/programs\_orgs/pos\_bja/?fa=pos\_bja.meetings.

B. District and Municipal Court Management Association (DMCMA)

Ms. Dawn Williams, DMCMA liaison, reported that the DMCMA conference is May 16-20, 2020. Judge Meyer, DMCJA President plans to attend a portion of the conference.

C. Superior Court Judges' Association (SCJA)

Judge Gehlsen, DMCJA Liaison for the SCJA, reported that the SCJA circulated GR 38, Immigration Enforcement, to its membership. The Board noted confusion regarding proposed rule GR 38, which relates to Immigration Enforcement and proposed GR 38 that relates to the LFO Remission rule.

D. Washington State Bar Association (WSBA)

Although she had planned to attend, Ms. Hunter was unable to join this meeting.

ACTION

A. Legal Financial Obligations (LFO) Remission Rule

The Board moved, seconded, and passed a vote (M/S/P) to support the proposed Legal Financial Obligations (LFO) Remission Rule proposed by the LFO Stakeholder Consortium. The proposed rule creates a process for a defendant to request remission or reduction of LFOs in all cases, except for restitution and victim penalty assessment.

B. YMCA Mock Trial Donation Request

M/S/P to approve donating sixteen hundred dollars ($1600) to the YMCA Youth & Government program. This donation will be retrieved from the DMCJA Judicial Community Outreach line item.

DISCUSSION

A. Legal Financial Obligations (LFO) Remission Rule – Judge David Steiner

Judge Steiner, LFO Remission Rule Spokesperson for the LFO Stakeholder Consortium, presented on a proposed rule that creates a process for a defendant to request remission or reduction of LFOs. The exception, however, is for restitution and victim penalty assessment. Judge Steiner reported that the proposed rule will provide a uniform process for courts to handle requests for reduction or remission of court costs, fees, fines, penalties, assessments, and restitution imposed by Washington courts. He informed that King County does not currently have a uniform process to handle these requests. For instance, people write a letter to the judge requesting LFO reduction or remission, however, nothing is uniform, according to Judge Steiner. He further reported that the General Rule (GR) 9 Cover Sheet includes all of the statutory and case laws related to the proposed rule. Judge Steiner stressed that this proposed rule does not include restitution but instead LFOs that deal with fees and fines, as stated in section a) of the proposed rule. He addressed each section of the proposed rule and noted that a mandated pattern form petition created by the Administrative Office of the Courts will help to streamline the LFO remission process. This form should be short and simple to allow any judge to look at it and know what to expect. There was mention of prosecutors' involvement in the process, which may be found in section f) of the rule. Also, a judge will have discretion whether to hold a telephonic hearing under section g).

Judge Steiner reported that the Superior Court Judges' Association's Board of Trustees has approved the proposed LFO Remission rule. He noted that the SCJA made edits to a previously proposed rule, which are present in the version presented to the DMCJA today. Judge Steiner requests support of the rule from the DMCJA. Upon DMCJA approval, he will seek approval of the rule from the prosecutors and defense organizations. Judge Coburn, a member of the LFO Stakeholder Consortium, thanked Judge Steiner for all of his work on the proposed rule, especially since he is a Superior Court judge and the rule will mostly impact courts of limited jurisdiction. M/S/P to make this discussion topic an action item.

B. YMCA Mock Trial Donation Request

The Board reviewed a request from the YMCA to donate at least sixteen hundred dollars ($1600) for the Youth and Government Program. The Board had a robust discussion and decided to make this issue an action item. M/S/P to move to an action item.

C. Status Update: State of Washington v. Stevens County District Court Judge

Judge Meyer reported that the Washington State Supreme Court decided the Superior Court may conduct preliminary appearance hearings for misdemeanors and gross misdemeanors originally filed in district court in the case, State of Washington v. Stevens County District Court Judge, 7 Wn. App. 2d 927, 436 P.3d 430 (2019). Judge Meyer reported that the decision was largely based on court rules, thus, Judge Meyer met with the DMCJA Rules Committee to discuss a possible change in the rule. He informed that thirty-eight of thirty-nine counties handle preliminary hearings the same way. Hence, an adjustment of the rule may benefit Stevens County. Judge Meyer informed that the DMCJA Rules Committee will draft a proposed rule regarding the issue for the Board's review on March 13, 2020. Judge Meyer gave a big thank you to J Benway, AOC Staff for the DMCJA Rules Committee for her work with the proposed rule.

This document is provided to illustrate the current role in Odyssey Portal for Superior Court Judicial Officers and what a similar role would look like for CLJ Judges based off of their current security roles in the Legacy JIS Systems

Any final decisions made on system roles & rights within SC-CMS Portal will need to be approved by the SC-CMS CUWG.

Navigating the Case Manager/ Party Info/ Access Case Type tabs

1. Yellow cells show information that is currently available in the Portal Application and currently available to CLJ Judges in the Legacy JIS-Link Application
2. Gray cells show Portal information that is currently not available to CLJ Judges in the Legacy JIS Application
3. Yes (Y) and No (N) indicators are located under the current and anticipated Portal roles on the far right of the screen.

Hello Susan,

I would like to thank the DMCJA and the AOC staff for inviting the proponents of amended APR 26, Equal Justice Washington S.P.C. to speak on behalf of the people of Washington State and victims of malpractice.

I wanted to confirm with you my availability to speak with the DMCJA Board at the March 13th meeting. We welcome the opportunity to engage with the DMCJA Board about the importance of the rule change but more importantly we welcome a robust conversation about the fears and misconceptions about its adoption, the impact on the profession and the people of Washington.

Additionally, I am happy to announce that Professor Susan Saab Fortney of Texas A&M University will be joining us telephonically. Professor Fortney has written extensively on the subject and has been cited by the WSBA Task Force on Mandatory Malpractice Insurance.

I am also including the complete Task Force report and a legal research paper by Professor Fortney for your reference.

I look forward to seeing you all soon.

Sincerely,

REPORT TO WSBA BOARD OF GOVERNORS

Task Force recommends malpractice insurance as a condition of licensing, with exemptions.

BACKGROUND

In September 2017, the WSBA Board of Governors created a task force to evaluate the nature and consequences of uninsured lawyers in the state. The 17-member task force included legal professionals from a range of practice areas and firm sizes as well as an insurance broker and public member. The task force gathered information throughout 2018—including more than 580 comments from members and the public—and found:

- 14 percent of Washington lawyers in private practice do not carry insurance, and determined that this lack of protection poses a distinct risk to clients.
- Uninsured lawyers create an access-to-justice problem: their clients are typically unable to pursue legitimate malpractice claims against them because plaintiffs' lawyers cannot afford to bring actions against uninsured practitioners.

CONCLUSION AND REPORT

The task force concluded that lawyers' fiduciary duties to their clients supports an obligation to obtain and maintain malpractice insurance. The report, therefore, recommends that the WSBA Board of Governors propose a mandatory malpractice insurance rule for consideration by the Washington Supreme Court. Specifics of the proposed rule:

- All Washington lawyers in private practice would be responsible for maintaining malpractice insurance in the minimum amount of $250,000 per occurrence/$500,000 total per year.
- Lawyers would obtain coverage through the private, competitive insurance market and would report their coverage status through the annual licensing process. Failure to comply would lead to an administrative suspension of the lawyer's license.
- Several categories of lawyers would be exempt, including: in-house government and private entity lawyers; certain nonprofit legal aid or public defense lawyers; judges, mediators and arbitrators; lawyers providing pro bono services through organizations that provide insurance; and retired lawyers who continue to maintain their licenses.

The task force also recommended that WSBA work closely with volunteer-lawyer programs to increase the availability of malpractice insurance for lawyers whose private practice is limited solely to pro bono representations.

MANDATORY MALPRACTICE INSURANCE TASK FORCE REPORT

I. SUMMARY

On September 28, 2017, the Board of Governors established the Mandatory Malpractice Insurance Task Force and adopted a Charter to guide the Task Force's work. The Charter is attached as Appendix A. The Charter asked the Task Force to focus on the nature and the consequences of uninsured lawyers, to examine current mandatory malpractice insurance systems, and to gather information and comments from WSBA members and other interested parties. The Charter also charged the Task Force with determining whether to recommend mandatory malpractice insurance in Washington, developing a model that might work best in this state, and then drafting rules to implement that model.

The Task Force has 17 members including lawyers from a variety of practice areas and law firm sizes, a federal judge, an LLLT, industry professionals, and members of the public. The list of members is attached as Appendix B. The Task Force was asked to provide an interim report in the summer, 2018, which it provided on July 10. That interim report included a number of tentative recommendations. The Task Force was charged with completing its information gathering and finalizing its recommendations by January, 2019. At its November 2018 meeting, the Board of Governors extended the Task Force's reporting deadline to March 2019. Since January 2018, the Task Force has conducted monthly meetings.<sup>1</sup> In addition to gathering information and data from a variety of sources described in this report, the Task Force made a substantial effort to hear from WSBA members. As of December 1, 2018, the Task Force had received more than 580 written comments, both solicited and unsolicited. The Task Force sponsored informational articles and progress reports in NW Lawyer and through other forms of direct communication with members. On October 16, 2018, the Task Force held an open forum for lawyers with an interest in the topic, and heard from 18 people, testifying both in person and through telephonic testimony.

Through the autumn of 2018, the Task Force continued to gather information about the impact of uninsured lawyers on clients, the character of the apparent problem, and the best approach to dealing with that issue. The Task Force spent considerable time discussing which categories of lawyers should be excluded from any malpractice insurance requirement. The Task Force members reached consensus on its recommendations, and then worked on drafting and editing a report to the Board of Governors. At its January 30, 2019, meeting, the Task Force voted unanimously to approve this Report and its recommendations for submission to the WSBA Board of Governors.<sup>2</sup>

Members of the Task Force started with widely divergent ideas about mandating malpractice insurance, but the group deliberated carefully over its potential recommendations, listened thoughtfully to each other and to the comments it received, and reached consensus. Task Force members also concluded that they should move boldly and not shy away from difficult proposals.

Task Force participants were consistent in their view, reflected in General Rule (GR) 12.1, that the Washington Supreme Court and the WSBA have a duty to protect the public and maintain the integrity of the profession. Consequently, the Task Force has focused on the risk of injury to clients and the public that arises from uninsured lawyers engaged in the private practice of law, a group that constitutes a small but significant percentage of lawyers in Washington State. Further, every lawyer is a fiduciary with ethical and legal duties to protect a client's interests.<sup>3</sup> The Task Force concludes that the fundamental obligation of a lawyer to protect clients includes the obligation to obtain and maintain malpractice insurance.

<sup>2</sup> One Task Force member was absent from the January 30, 2019, meeting, so that Task Force member did not participate in the vote.

<sup>3</sup> See, e.g., 1 Restatement (Third) of the Law Governing Lawyers § 16 & Comment (2000) ("A lawyer is a fiduciary, that is, a person to whom another person's affairs are entrusted in circumstances that often make it difficult or undesirable for that other person to supervise closely the performance of the fiduciary. Assurances of the lawyer's competence, diligence, and loyalty are therefore vital. . . . Special safeguards are therefore necessary."). The Rules of Professional Conduct (RPC) impose a number of specific ethics obligations on lawyers to protect a client's interests. These specific obligations include, but are not limited to, providing competent representation to a client (RPC 1.1); protecting client confidences (RPC 1.6); avoiding conflicts of interest to the detriment of a client (RPC 1.7); and protecting client funds and property (RPC 1.15A).

A license to practice law is a privilege, and no lawyer is immune from mistakes. The members emphasized that a key goal of this Task Force is to recommend effective ways to assure that clients are compensated when lawyers make mistakes. Because 14% of Washington lawyers in private practice do not carry malpractice insurance, the Task Force members determined that those lawyers pose a significant risk to their clients. Further, when lawyers lack insurance that means that from a practical standpoint, their clients do not have access to the legal system to seek compensation. These clients are often unable to seek compensation because plaintiffs' lawyers are generally unwilling to pursue cases when the defendant lawyer is uninsured and may therefore be effectively "judgment proof." Lack of malpractice insurance is, fundamentally, an access-to-justice issue, and the Task Force has concluded that it is more than appropriate for lawyers to ensure their own financial accountability.

Lack of malpractice insurance is, fundamentally, an access-to-justice issue, and the Task Force has concluded that it is more than appropriate for lawyers to ensure their own financial accountability.

Specifically, this Report concludes that:

- The Board of Governors should recommend, and the Washington Supreme Court should adopt, a rule mandating continuous, uninterrupted malpractice insurance for actively-licensed lawyers engaged in the private practice of law, with specified exemptions. Lawyers would be required to obtain minimum levels of malpractice insurance in the private marketplace. For the purposes of this Report, the "private practice of law" means the provision of legal services to clients other than a lawyer's employing organization and that organization's representatives and employees in their organizational capacities.
- The required minimum coverage should be $250,000 per occurrence/$500,000 total per year ("$250K/$500K").

Several categories of lawyers should be exempt.

- Several categories of lawyers should be exempt because they are not engaged in the private practice of law or are otherwise insured by the organization through which they provide legal services:
  - ▶ Government lawyers;
  - ▶ Judges;
  - ▶ Employees of a corporation or business entity, including nonprofits;
  - ▶ Employees of or independent contractors for nonprofit legal aid or public defense offices that provide insurance to their employees or independent contractors;
  - ▶ Mediators or arbitrators;
  - ▶ Lawyers providing volunteer pro bono services for qualified legal services providers (QLSPs) as defined in APR 1(e)(8) that provide insurance to their volunteers;
  - ▶ Other lawyers either not “actively licensed” or not “engaged in the private practice of law,” including, for example, retired attorneys maintaining their licenses, judicial law clerks, and Rule 9 interns.

The recommended exemptions are described in this report.

- Licensed lawyers should report their type of practice and malpractice insurance coverage status through the annual licensing process. Failure to comply with the requirement would lead to an administrative suspension of the lawyer’s license.
- The WSBA should partner with volunteer lawyer programs (VLPs) in Washington to increase the availability of no- or low-cost malpractice insurance for lawyers whose private practice is limited solely to pro bono representations. It is important to make sure that implementation of an insurance mandate does not have a material adverse effect on access to justice.

In shaping its recommendations, the Task Force focused on basic requirements that would be simple and straightforward, avoid multiple requirements, and allow for insurance policy flexibility.

In developing its recommendations, the Task Force listened to the many suggestions from WSBA members, particularly in the area of appropriate exemptions. Those suggestions reshaped the Task Force’s proposals. The Task Force recognizes that notwithstanding the adjustments the Task Force made to its approach, a number of WSBA members have continued to voice ardent opposition to the concept of requiring that lawyers carry insurance. However, this is an important issue of fairness and access-to-justice. While it is important to respect the concerns of those who oppose an insurance requirement, the Task Force believes that these recommendations meet many of those concerns. Ultimately, the Task Force has concluded that when one weighs the apprehensions of those who resist malpractice insurance against the large number of clients who are exposed to harm by uninsured lawyers, the balance tips in favor of client protection.

Protection of the public is the overriding public duty of lawyers, the WSBA, and the Washington Supreme Court. The WSBA’s mission statement lists four core missions: to serve the public, to serve the members of the Bar, to ensure the integrity of the legal profession, and to champion justice. Three out of those four goals emphasize the public mission of the organized bar. Equally if not more important is the language of the Washington Supreme Court’s GR 12. GR 12.1 begins: “Legal services providers must be regulated in the public interest.” GR 12.1 then lists ten specific objectives, leading off with “protection of the public” and proceeds to list nine other regulatory objectives, all of which are oriented toward the protection of clients and access to justice. The Board of Governor’s decision whether to recommend action on uninsured lawyers, and the Court’s ultimate decision on this matter, must be approached overwhelmingly from the perspective of what is good for the public and what is good for clients—not what might be convenient or desirable for lawyers themselves.

The Task Force’s detailed meeting minutes and meeting materials are available at <https://www.wsba.org/insurance-task-force>.

II. TASK FORCE REPORT

A. TASK FORCE APPROACH TO INFORMATION-GATHERING

Since its first meeting in January 2018, the WSBA Mandatory Malpractice Insurance Task Force has focused on gathering the information necessary to make a considered recommendation on whether malpractice insurance should be required in some form for Washington lawyers. During this information-gathering phase, the Task Force obtained information from the following sources, among others:

- WSBA data on Washington lawyers, their practice areas, how they practice (e.g., solo/small firm/large firm/in-house), malpractice insurance levels, WSBA public disciplinary information, and information about the Client Protection Fund.
- Jurisdictions with mandatory malpractice insurance programs in place or under consideration (Oregon and Idaho mandate malpractice insurance; California and Georgia are considering doing so; in 2018, the State Bar of Nevada proposed a mandatory malpractice insurance rule, which was not adopted by the Supreme Court of Nevada; and, in 2017, New Jersey Supreme Court Ad Hoc Committee on Attorney Malpractice recommended a direct disclosure requirement, which has not been implemented by the Court and was opposed by the New Jersey State Bar Association).

- A jurisdiction (Illinois) that implemented a proactive management-based regulation (PMBR) model. A law professor regarding empirical research on lawyers who go uninsured, other academic studies of the subject, including Herbert M. Kritzer's and Neil Vidmar's When Lawyers Screw Up: Improving Access to Justice for Legal Malpractice Victims, and an ABA study of malpractice insurance (2015 ABA Profile on Legal Malpractice Claims).
- Experienced insurance industry professionals, including insurance brokers and underwriters.
- A legal malpractice plaintiff's lawyer.
- WSBA members through comments submitted to the Task Force.

The Task Force also received useful technical assistance from ALPS,<sup>4</sup> as well as from mandatory program administrators in Oregon and Idaho.

As a volunteer-driven and WSBA-funded project, the Task Force was charged with developing a recommendation and report with limited resources, so it focused much of its research and analysis on available sources and studies, the experience of other jurisdictions, and the perspective of industry professionals. Given the fiscal limitations and its reporting deadline, the Task Force did not perform the types of research and analysis that would have required the services of independent consultants and data analysts. However, through targeted outreach, the Task Force received a great deal of information, including comments from WSBA members, that filled in some of these gaps and informed the Task Force's thinking on many key decision points.

As noted above, the Task Force received more than 580 written comments from lawyers throughout the state of Washington. All of those comments were shared with members of the Task Force, and the Task Force received monthly updates on the concerns voiced by WSBA members. On October 16, 2018, the Task Force held an open forum, during which 18 people testified either in person and through video and telephonic testimony. Informational articles and progress reports appeared several times over the course of the year in NWLawyer and through other forms of direct communication with members. Each of those communications generated additional member comments and suggestions. All information has been made available to members and the public via the Task Force web page of the WSBA website.

The Task Force received more than 580 written comments from lawyers throughout the state of Washington.

In 2017, 19,813 of actively licensed lawyers were engaged in the private practice of law.

B. KEY FINDINGS

What follows is the data and other relevant information acquired by the Task Force regarding problems associated with lawyers who go uninsured, characteristics of malpractice insurance, and other relevant information.

1. WSBA Membership Data and Financial Responsibility Requirements

The legal profession in Washington has seen significant and consistent growth over the last decade, with 38,540 licensed lawyers in Washington in 2017.<sup>5</sup> Of those lawyers, 32,189 were actively licensed to practice law.<sup>6</sup> In 2017, 19,813 of actively licensed lawyers were engaged in the private practice of law.<sup>7</sup> See Appendix C for current information on lawyer demographics.

Washington lawyers are not required to establish proof of financial responsibility to maintain their licenses. Washington lawyers are, however, as part of the annual licensing process, required to disclose to the Bar whether they are in private practice and whether they maintain malpractice insurance.<sup>8</sup> The information is made available to the public through the legal directory on the WSBA website. Washington is one of 25 states that require disclosure of malpractice insurance either to the licensing organization or directly to the client.<sup>9</sup>

As of February 1, 2019, there are 811 actively licensed limited practice officers (LPOs) and 36 actively licensed limited license legal technicians (LLLTs).<sup>10</sup> Under Admission and Practice Rules (APR) 12(f)(2) and 28(l)(2) respectively, LPOs and LLLTs are required to show proof of financial responsibility on an annual basis to maintain their licenses. That financial responsibility ordinarily is established by certification of the existence of professional liability insurance.<sup>11</sup> Specifically, LPOs may choose to submit an insurance policy in the amount of $100,000 or an audited financial statement in the amount of $200,000.<sup>12</sup> LLLTs must submit proof of insurance coverage in the amount of at least $100,000 per claim and a $300,000 annual

2. Who Is Uninsured and What We Know About Them

What follows is a discussion regarding those lawyers who choose to go uninsured and what the research shows about who they are and why they are uninsured.

a) Trends Relating to Uninsured Lawyers

On March 28, 2018, Leslie C. Levin, Professor at University of Connecticut School of Law, presented to the Task Force her research on uninsured lawyers, who they are, and why they go uninsured.<sup>15</sup> She found that small firm lawyers are more likely to go uninsured;<sup>16</sup> however, a limited amount is known about these lawyers and why they choose to go uninsured, because these lawyers often fly “under the radar.”<sup>17</sup>

As part of her research, Professor Levin reviewed surveys of more than 200 lawyers in Connecticut (a state with no malpractice insurance disclosure requirements), New Mexico (a state with direct disclosure requirements), and Arizona (a state with indirect disclosure requirements).<sup>18</sup> Her survey concluded that approximately 15% of private practitioners in New Mexico and 19.6% of private practitioners in Arizona go uninsured.<sup>19</sup> She further found that most uninsured lawyers are small firm practitioners or solo attorneys, who are more likely to work at home without any support staff.<sup>20</sup> According to those surveyed, the most common reason for not carrying insurance was cost; in all three surveyed states, insurance premiums averaged $3,000 per lawyer.<sup>21</sup> Other reasons included philosophical opposition to mandatory insurance, a dislike of insurance companies, and a belief of no risk of liability because of practice area.<sup>22</sup> A recent article by Texas A&M University School of Law Professor Susan Saab Fortney adds: “A perplexing explanation

The State Bar of Nevada, as part of its initiative to investigate whether to require malpractice insurance of its lawyers, conducted a survey of uninsured lawyers in Nevada.<sup>24</sup> The survey revealed that 79.8% of its uninsured lawyers were in private practice, with 73% of the uninsured lawyers indicating they were solos and 15.25% indicating they were in firms of 2-4 attorneys.<sup>25</sup> The survey showed the highest concentration of uninsured lawyers in the practice areas of plaintiff’s general civil practice (29.15%), criminal defense (25.56%), corporate/business organization and transactions (24.22%), plaintiff’s personal injury (22.87%), and family law (22.87%).<sup>26</sup> Survey respondents listed the following as their primary reasons for going uninsured: cost, confidence in their practice, and a belief that their practice area did not necessitate coverage.<sup>27</sup>

Washington
lawyers in private practice have consistently reported being uninsured.

b) Washington Trends Relating to Uninsured Lawyers

As annually reported by Washington lawyers pursuant to APR 26, from 2015 to 2017, 85% of Washington lawyers in private practice reported carrying insurance.<sup>28</sup> 14% of Washington lawyers in private practice have consistently reported being uninsured.<sup>29</sup> Specifically, in 2017, of the 19,813 lawyers in private practice, 2,752 lawyers reported that they were uninsured.<sup>30</sup>

On average, Washington lawyers are practicing longer, and once lawyers reach the age of 71, the number in private practice who carry malpractice insurance drops. With respect to those lawyers in private practice who reported being uninsured, the data suggest that as lawyers age, they are more likely to report not having malpractice insurance: with 86.6% of those lawyers aged 51-60, 83.5% aged 61-70, and 75.6% aged 71-80 reporting they are insured compared to 90% of lawyers aged 30-40 and 89.4% of lawyers aged 41-50.<sup>31</sup>

According to voluntary demographic information collected in 2017, the practice areas where Washington lawyers in private practice were most likely to report being uninsured included business-commercial law, civil litigation, contract law, estate planning and probate, criminal law, family law, general practice, and personal injury.<sup>32</sup>

In Washington State, lawyers in private practice who practice in solo or small firms are most likely to be uninsured. According to 2017 voluntary demographic information reported by Washington lawyers as part of the annual licensing process, approximately 28% of solo practitioners reported being uninsured.<sup>33</sup>

While the correlation between public disciplinary information and APR 26 insurance disclosure information might not accurately reflect whether the population of uninsured lawyers is more likely to make errors or become subject to malpractice claims, most attorney misconduct grievances and disciplinary actions also involve solo and small firm practitioners. Of the 211 lawyers disciplined between 2014 and 2017, 101 reported maintaining a solo private practice as of the last time they reported voluntary demographic information to the Bar during the annual licensing process.<sup>34</sup> Of the 101, 55 reported that they did not carry malpractice insurance.<sup>35</sup> As of October 2018, only 62 of the total number of lawyers disciplined during that period had an active license to practice law and were in private practice, and 22 of those individuals reported being uninsured.<sup>36</sup> Eighteen of those uninsured actively licensed lawyers reported maintaining a solo private practice.<sup>37</sup> (It is important to note that these are simply correlations, and the fact that an individual lawyer does or does not obtain insurance will not necessarily affect the likelihood that the lawyer might violate the Rules of Professional Conduct.)

With respect to the reasons why Washington lawyers choose not to carry insurance, written comments to the Task Force suggest that cost is a common reason, along with retirement, a limited practice that may include providing legal services only to family members, friends or on a pro bono basis, and perceptions of uninsurability based on practice area.<sup>38</sup>

3. The Malpractice Insurance Market, Generally

Virtually all malpractice coverage is claims-made coverage, which covers a claim when the claim is filed during the policy period.<sup>39</sup> Claims-made coverage will only cover claims after the policy period expires if the insured purchases “tail” coverage.<sup>40</sup> Tail coverage protects from claims based on lawyer errors or omissions that occur during the policy period that are not filed until the policy period has expired.<sup>41</sup>

There is significant variation among insurance providers regarding what is and is not covered, and regarding many other policy details. Typical malpractice insurance agreements might include coverage for:

- services as an attorney;
- services as a notary public,
- services as a title agent;
- an attorney who causes personal injury;
- services as a trustee or executor; and
- pre- or post-judgment interest, appeal, bonds, and related costs.<sup>42</sup>

Multiple variables apply when underwriting lawyer malpractice insurance. Specifically, some areas of practice present higher risks than others.<sup>43</sup> Insurers also consider the number of attorneys in a firm, the years of coverage, the professional experience of the lawyer, limits of liability and deductibles, any claims or disciplinary history, premium payment history, and other factors.<sup>44</sup>

Typical exclusions to malpractice insurance policies include dishonest, fraudulent, criminal, or malicious acts by the insured.<sup>45</sup> Additional exclusions include, among others, prior acts (committed before the policy period) when the insured knew of or should have foreseen the claim, discrimination and sexual harassment, vicarious liability, and punitive damages.<sup>46</sup> Again, the exclusions vary noticeably from carrier to carrier.

Both admitted and non-admitted carriers operate in Washington State.<sup>47</sup> See Appendix D ABA List of Admitted and Non-admitted Carriers (as of February 6, 2019). Admitted carriers are licensed by the Washington State Office of the Insurance Commissioner (OIC) and must abide by specific regulations governing admitted carriers.<sup>48</sup> The ABA reports that in Washington there are 21 admitted carriers that write lawyer malpractice policies.<sup>49</sup> The OIC issues to each admitted carrier a certificate of authority to do business in the state and requires the carrier to file its rates and coverage forms annually.<sup>50</sup> Because they are subject to strict government oversight, admitted carriers have less flexibility in setting rates and deviating from their filings.<sup>51</sup> If an admitted carrier becomes insolvent, a state fund operates to protect consumers by paying out claims (up to statutory maximums) and refunding premiums.<sup>52</sup>

In contrast, non-admitted carriers are not governed by state insurance departments and are not required to file their rates with the state.<sup>53</sup> They provide what is known as “surplus line” coverage.<sup>54</sup> With less regulation, non-admitted carriers are free to set their own rates and underwrite higher risk insurance packages.<sup>55</sup> Some areas of practice that are higher risk and receive greater underwriting scrutiny from admitted carriers such as ALPS include entertainment and sports law, patent law, securities law, and mergers and acquisitions work.<sup>56</sup> Practitioners in these higher risk areas may need to seek insurance from non-admitted carriers rather than through admitted carriers.<sup>57</sup> Non-admitted carriers can further accommodate certain complex risks for which the traditional insurance marketplace does not provide adequate coverage.<sup>58</sup> No state fund protects consumers from non-admitted carrier insolvency.<sup>59</sup> The ABA reports that in Washington there are six non-admitted carriers that write lawyer malpractice policies.<sup>60</sup>

4. Current Malpractice Insurance Market Statistics

The ABA Profile of Legal Malpractice Claims (2012-2015) (“ABA Profile”) is issued periodically by the ABA Standing Committee on Lawyers’ Professional Liability and reflects malpractice insurer statistics.<sup>61</sup> The ABA Profile is based on self-reporting by insurers, so it does not present a comprehensive review of the legal malpractice insurance market.<sup>62</sup> Data collected include claims by area of law, size of firm, disposition, types of alleged errors, expenses paid, indemnity dollars paid, and file processing times.<sup>63</sup> Much, but not all, of the information in this section of the Report is drawn from the results of the ABA Profile.

a) Firm Size and Malpractice Claims

Solo and small firm practitioners represent a disproportionate share of the malpractice claims. During the period of 2012-2015, the firms nationwide with the highest percentage of claims had between one and five attorneys, with 34% of claims against solo practitioners and 32% of claims against firms with two to five attorneys.<sup>64</sup> In other words, over 65% of claims arose from firms with five or fewer attorneys. In Oregon, the state’s Professional Liability Fund in 2015 paid out $6.52 million in claims against solo practitioners, only $1.64 million in claims against lawyers in small firms (2-5 lawyers), and $1.71 million in claims against attorneys in large firms (15 or more).<sup>65</sup> It is unclear to what the higher incidence of malpractice claims among solo and small firm lawyers is attributable, but, according to available national statistics, small firm practitioners constitute the majority of private practitioners with solo practitioners constituting between 45% to 49% of private practitioners, and lawyers in firms of two to five lawyers constituting 14% to 15% of private practitioners.<sup>66</sup> Further, larger firms may have more robust practice management systems<sup>67</sup> and the clients of such firms may use means other than the filing of malpractice claims to resolve situations involving lawyer error.

The potential claims against solo practitioners might be even greater than the statistics suggest.

Even though solo practitioners represent the greatest number of claims, as a whole the evidence suggests they are underrepresented as a source of malpractice claims<sup>68</sup>; in other words, the potential claims against solo practitioners might be even greater than the statistics suggest. The underrepresentation of solo practitioners

Lawyers with more than ten years of practice produce a disproportionate share of claims.

may be due to the fact that many do not carry insurance and thus would not appear in reports by insurers.<sup>69</sup>

b) Percentage of Claims by Practice Area

Nationwide, the areas of practice with the highest incidences of malpractice claims include plaintiff’s personal injury at 18.24%; real estate law at 14.89%; family law at 13.51%; estates, trusts, and probate at 12.05%; collection and bankruptcy at 10.59%; and commercial/corporate law at 9.74%.<sup>70</sup> These statistics tend to mirror those practice areas with the highest reported number of uninsured lawyers in Washington.<sup>71</sup> Specifically, among the practice areas where Washington lawyers in private practice were most likely to report being uninsured included business-commercial law, estate planning and probate, family law, and personal injury.<sup>72</sup>

c) Years in Practice and Claim Rates

Evidence nationally suggests that lawyers with more than ten years of practice produce a disproportionate share of claims.<sup>73</sup> For example, a 2015 report from the Missouri Department of Insurance, Financial Institutions, and Professional Regulation showed that over a ten-year period, 87.5% of claims were against lawyers with ten years or more of practice experience.<sup>74</sup> Further, the Wisconsin Lawyers Mutual Insurance Company reported that, between 1983 and 2013, 29% of claims filed were against lawyers with eleven to twenty years of practice experience, and 75% were against lawyers with more than ten years of experience.<sup>75</sup> Further, in 2013, Minnesota Lawyers Mutual Insurance Company reported that 39% of its policyholders who reported claims had eleven to twenty years of experience, and 72% of claims were against lawyers with more than ten years of experience.<sup>76</sup> Why this group is overrepresented among claims is unclear; however, it may be attributable to the fact that lawyers in that stage of their careers are more likely to experience burnout, which may be reflected in the quality of their work.<sup>77</sup>

Nationally, 89.1% of malpractice claims are resolved for less than $100,000.

d) Percentage of Indemnity Dollars and Expenses Paid

Nationally, 89.1% of malpractice claims are resolved for less than $100,000 (including claims payments and expenses).<sup>78</sup> 95.2% of malpractice claims are resolved for less than $250,000.<sup>79</sup> ALPS reports that based on its experience, over the past ten years, about half of all its claims were resolved without payment, and 97% of its closed claims were resolved for less than $250,000, including defense costs.<sup>80</sup> According to ALPS, in Washington, for all claims, its average loss payment was $60,548 and average loss expense to defend those claims was $20,406.<sup>81</sup> Where payments were made by ALPS, its average loss payment was $119,856, and average loss expenses were about $40,454.<sup>82</sup>

e) Frequency Rate of Claims

National frequency rates of claims, meaning the percentage of lawyers per 100 lawyers against whom claims are filed, appears to be less than six percent annually for all lawyers.<sup>83</sup> Some evidence suggests that where insurance is mandated, claim rates rise. In Oregon, where insurance is mandated, the annual rate is 12.4% per 100 lawyers.<sup>84</sup> Also, in Canada, where lawyers must be insured, Ontario has a claims rate of 10.3%; British Columbia has a rate of 12.3%; and Alberta has a rate of 11.8%.<sup>85</sup> Given that the market is claims made, claim rate percentages include matters lawyers report to their insurers as possible claims.<sup>86</sup>

5. Insurance Options for Lawyers Providing Primarily Pro Bono Services

Civil legal aid providers and most organized volunteer lawyer programs (typically provided through nonprofit organizations) provide malpractice insurance for participating lawyers. According to the ABA Report on the Pro Bono Work of Washington’s Lawyers issued in July 2017, approximately 56% of lawyers in Washington are connected to their pro bono clients through referrals from legal aid providers, non-profit organizations, or bar association or other independent pro bono programs,<sup>87</sup> many of which are likely QLSPs. QLSPs, as defined in APR 1(e)(8), are nonprofit legal service organizations whose primary purpose is to provide legal services to low income individuals. QLSPs are required either to provide malpractice insurance for their volunteers or have a policy in place to require that all volunteers carry their own malpractice insurance.<sup>88</sup> Washington has over 50 Bar-approved QLSPs.<sup>89</sup>

Qualified legal services providers (QLSPs) are required either to provide malpractice insurance for their volunteers or have a policy in place to require that all volunteers carry their own malpractice insurance.

The Legal Foundation of Washington (LFW) provides grants to many nonprofit legal aid providers in Washington State, many of which are QLSPs and provide legal services through VLPs.<sup>90</sup> VLPs are legal assistance programs that recruit volunteer lawyers to provide free legal aid in civil matters to primarily low-income individuals.<sup>91</sup> Approximately five to eight years ago, LFW launched its own group insurance program for all of its grantees that are VLPs.<sup>92</sup> The LFW plan offers coverage up to $500,000.<sup>93</sup> Many grantees choose to buy additional coverage. This includes, for example, the King County Bar Association (KCBA) Pro Bono Services Program and the Eastside Legal Assistance Program (ELAP).<sup>94</sup>

Both KCBA and ELAP's plan includes the cost of legal fees for defending a claim, providing total coverage of $1 million for claims/$2 million aggregate.<sup>95</sup> For lawyers to be covered under the plan, the lawyers must be providing services through one of the VLP's pro bono programs for no fee.<sup>96</sup> With respect to tail coverage, the coverage extends past the time of volunteering.<sup>97</sup> The lawyer would thus be covered if a client files a claim arising from services provided through KCBA or ELAP's pro bono program long after the lawyer has ceased volunteering.<sup>98</sup> QLSPs that provide legal services primarily through staff attorneys, such as Columbia Legal Services and Northwest Justice Project, obtain their own insurance plans.<sup>99</sup> Columbia Legal Services and Northwest Justice Project have pro bono riders for volunteer lawyers that work with them.<sup>100</sup>

With respect to the geographic reach of VLPs, there are some gaps in VLPs across the state with only 20 of 39 Washington counties served by VLPs.<sup>101</sup> It is thus likely that not every lawyer would connect with a VLP to provide pro bono services.<sup>102</sup> Ferry County, for example, has no VLP, so an uninsured lawyer wishing to volunteer to represent a Ferry County resident would have to purchase insurance or arrange to perform the work through an out-of-county low-income legal services provider.

6. The Client Protection Fund and Applications Alleging Malpractice

The Washington Supreme Court’s Client Protection Fund (CPF), administered by the Bar, is funded by a mandatory assessment on lawyers and provides gifts to clients who are victims of licensed legal professional dishonest conduct or the practitioner’s failure to account for money or property entrusted to the practitioner. The CPF receives its mandate from APR 15. Under APR 15(b)(4), the CPF provides gifts to clients only for lawyer theft or dishonest activities—not for negligent mistakes or incidents of malpractice that result in harm.

Applications are investigated only when there is a chance the fund could pay the victim, meaning that there is evidence of malfeasance.<sup>103</sup>

Client Protection Fund applications regarding malpractice cannot be considered and, thus, are not investigated.

7. Public Perceptions About and Impact on Clients of Uninsured Lawyers

Many members of the public believe that all lawyers already carry insurance, and data shows that decisions about whether to hire a lawyer would likely be impacted by whether the lawyer is insured.<sup>109</sup> Of note, on December 13, 2018, the non-partisan and objective research organization, NORC at the University of Chicago, issued a survey of California members of the public regarding legal malpractice insurance and public perceptions regarding whether lawyers should carry malpractice insurance.<sup>110</sup> The survey revealed that almost one in four members of the public (23%) believe that lawyers are currently required to carry malpractice insurance, with only 10% believing they are not required to do so and 65% unsure.<sup>111</sup>

In one survey of the public, 78% of respondents believed that legal malpractice insurance should be required in order to practice law.

Of those surveyed, 78% believed that legal malpractice insurance should be required in order to practice law.<sup>112</sup> Of those who believed that lawyers should be required to carry malpractice insurance, 86% agreed that lawyers should be required to do so even if that means that lawyers might charge higher fees to cover the cost of premiums.<sup>113</sup>

When lawyers without insurance make mistakes that injure their clients, there is a very low likelihood that those clients will be able to file a claim and a smaller likelihood of recovery.

With respect to the impact on clients of uninsured lawyers, when lawyers without insurance make mistakes that injure their clients, there is a very low likelihood that those clients will be able to file a claim and a smaller likelihood of recovery.<sup>114</sup> Plaintiffs' lawyers rarely agree to pursue professional negligence cases when the potential defendant is an uninsured lawyer,<sup>115</sup> in part because even a successful lawsuit ultimately may result in the defendant filing for bankruptcy or taking other actions that make recovery difficult or impossible.<sup>116</sup> Attorney malpractice cases are complicated and difficult to bring and to prove,<sup>117</sup> and for malpractice plaintiff's lawyers, economic <sup>114</sup> See, e.g., Cleveland B. Ass'n v. Smith, 102 Ohio St. 3d 10, 2004-Ohio-1582, 806 N.E.2d 495 (2004) (six-month suspension imposed for an uninsured lawyer, who among other misconduct, failed to file her client's case before the statute of limitations had run and then negotiated a $50,000 settlement with her client related to the error. After several bounced checks and paying only $14,000 of the amount owed, the lawyer filed for bankruptcy. Though the bankruptcy did not discharge her debt, the lawyer's debt to her client remained unpaid as of the time of the imposition of discipline); Parker v. Marcus, 281 N.J. Super. 589, 685 A.2d 1326 (1995) (motion to reinstate plaintiff's dismissed complaint in a personal injury action granted where dismissal was due to plaintiff's lawyer's failure to appear at an arbitration proceeding. The Court granted the motion despite the option to sue for malpractice given that "any claim against [the plaintiff's] disbarred and uninsured attorney would undoubtedly be futile. Thus, plaintiff ... would be left without any viable remedy"). See also, Andrew Wolfson, Malpractice Award Still Unpaid 18 Years Later, The Courier-Journal, June 17, 2014, at A7 (judgment of $390,000 plus interest still unsatisfied for client who, due to his uninsured lawyer's negligence, was convicted of murder and arson and spent two years in prison before he was later acquitted); Jay Stapleton, Hard-to-Collect Verdict Raises New Questions; Attorneys Mixed on Need to Mandate Legal Malpractice Policies, 39 Conn. L. Trib. No. 20, 1, May 20, 2013 (judgment in excess of $530,000 unrecoverable against uninsured and judgment-proof lawyer who failed to name the proper party to a personal injury suit, which led to dismissal of the case).

Additionally, Task Force Member Mark Johnson, a plaintiff's malpractice lawyer, recounted a past case in which he represented a client who sued a lawyer for real estate developers for breach of contract, breach of fiduciary duty, and negligence related to a real estate investment deal. The defendant lawyer improperly drafted a deed of trust conveying significantly less of a security interest in a development property than agreed upon to the plaintiff, leaving the plaintiff's loan essentially unsecured. The venture later failed. The suit resulted in a jury verdict against the lawyer and in favor of the plaintiff investor. Mr. Johnson noted that the uninsured defendant lawyer subsequently filed for bankruptcy and the plaintiff recovered nothing. viability must be a significant factor in determining whether to take a case.<sup>118</sup> When limited avenues exist for recovery, malpractice plaintiff’s lawyers must determine whether acceptance of the case makes financial sense both for the client and for the firm.<sup>119</sup> Because the bulk of potential malpractice claims are relatively small in size,<sup>120</sup> the impact of uninsured lawyers on clients with smaller claims is exacerbated because it is already challenging to find a plaintiffs’ lawyer who will agree to handle a case involving less than $100,000 in damages.<sup>121</sup> The problem is heightened by the fact that some lawyers in small firm and solo practices are involved in representations involving smaller amounts of money, but those are the same practitioners who are much more likely to be “going bare” in terms of insurance. As Professors Kritzer and Vidmar point out in their study, they know of no way to estimate how much harm caused by uninsured lawyers goes uncompensated; at the same time, they observe that national statistics on claims paid out for insured solo practitioners suggest that the harm in that context amounts to tens, if not hundreds, of millions of dollars each year.<sup>122</sup> They further note that clients of lawyers outside the large corporate firm context face a greater likelihood of a lawyer making a costly error, and they face greater limitations in securing the kind of assistance needed to prosecute a claim against the negligent lawyer. This is an access-to-justice problem as well as a potential image problem for the legal profession.<sup>123</sup>

Evidence of the effectiveness of required insurance is provided by Oregon’s experience. That state reports a higher rate of claims than the other jurisdictions the Task Force reviewed.<sup>124</sup> In their study, Professors Kritzer and Vidmar found that “[t]he much higher rate of claims per 100 insured in Oregon compared with what we found for other insurers of small to medium-sized practices clearly indicates that the absence of required insurance discourages claims.”<sup>125</sup> The annual frequency of claims rate in Oregon is about 12 per 100 lawyers, higher than in other states, and Canadian provinces with mandatory malpractice insurance report similar rates.<sup>126</sup> Required malpractice insurance appears to increase the number of claims made and claims paid. While this might be viewed as a disadvantage to lawyers, it should be viewed as promoting the regulatory objective of protecting the public.

8. Various Regulatory Schemes

What follows are descriptions of the regulatory models investigated and considered by the Task Force.

a) Oregon Model, Professional Liability Fund

In Oregon, licensed lawyers with offices in that state must belong to the Oregon State Bar's (OSB) Professional Liability Fund (PLF), paying a flat assessment (premium) of $3,300 per year. The Oregon program was established in 1977 by legislative mandate<sup>127</sup> to create a shared risk pool to ease the difficulty in obtaining insurance, which at the time was scarce and expensive.<sup>128</sup>

The PLF is an independently managed subdivision of the OSB governed by a Board of Directors, which is appointed by the OSB Board of Governors.<sup>129</sup> Under the PLF program, all licensed Oregon lawyers engaged in private practice with a principal office in Oregon who are not otherwise exempt must participate.<sup>130</sup> Each participating lawyer pays the same flat-rate annual assessment of $3,300 for coverage of $300,000 per claim/$300,000 aggregate, with optional excess coverage and no deductibles.<sup>131</sup> Coverage also includes $50,000 of expenses (principally costs of representation).<sup>132</sup> The PLF is a shared risk pool, with no underwriting of the individual participants.<sup>133</sup> The program covers lawyers, and not law firms.<sup>134</sup> The annual assessment is reduced for new lawyers in their first three years of practice.<sup>135</sup> A major advantage of Oregon's PLF approach is that all lawyers are covered, so no lawyer is in the position of being unable to obtain insurance.

The PLF has high favorability ratings among the OSB membership and is seen as a resource for lawyers facing problems.<sup>136</sup> The PLF

b) Idaho Model, Free Market Model

Idaho's malpractice insurance mandate began in 2018, based on a free-market model.<sup>138</sup> The malpractice insurance requirement was proposed in Idaho without creation of a formal task force or vetting committee.<sup>139</sup> Rather, the Idaho State Bar's then-president proposed a rule change to implement mandatory malpractice insurance, which was submitted to the Idaho State Bar's membership for a vote in 2016.<sup>140</sup> The measure won by a slim majority of 51% to 49%.<sup>141</sup> Following membership approval, the Idaho Supreme Court adopted the proposed rule with an effective date of January 1, 2018.<sup>142</sup>

Under the new requirements, actively licensed lawyers who represent private clients must report coverage annually and provide proof of minimum coverage of $100,000 per claim/$300,000 aggregate.<sup>143</sup> Idaho lawyers may purchase insurance from any provider they wish on the free market.<sup>144</sup> The rule purposely provides for no hardship or other exemptions.<sup>145</sup>

No Idaho attorneys reported an inability to obtain the required insurance.<sup>146</sup> Further, although some expressed concern about the cost, the average premium ranged between $2,000 and $3,000, and no premium quoted exceeded $3,500.<sup>147</sup> However, some lawyers indicated that the requirement would affect their decision to retire from practice.<sup>148</sup>

c) Illinois' Proactive Management-Based Regulation

In 2017, Illinois became the first state to adopt proactive management-based regulation (PMBR).<sup>149</sup> PMBR is an approach to lawyer regulation that focuses on programs intended to promote the ethical practice of law and hopefully reduce the incidence of grievances and malpractice claims.<sup>150</sup>

Prior to adoption of PMBR in Illinois, Illinois studied PMBR models in other jurisdictions including New South Wales, Australia, and Nova Scotia, Canada.<sup>151</sup> PMBR models typically include the following features:

1. Measures to complement traditional reactive disciplinary processes, usually through the use of self-assessment tools;
2. Education of lawyer/firm management to develop and employ an ethical infrastructure to prevent misconduct and unsatisfactory performance; and
3. Information sharing and collaboration among the lawyer regulator and lawyer/firm.<sup>152</sup>

Prior to adoption, Illinois investigated whether there was a need to implement PMBR in the state. The research revealed that 41% of solo practitioners in Illinois were uninsured and another 77% had no succession plan, statistics that alarmed regulators and practitioners alike.<sup>153</sup>

Every two years, Illinois lawyers in private practice who do not have malpractice insurance must complete a four-hour self-assessment online.

With the adoption of PMBR, beginning in 2018, every two years, Illinois lawyers in private practice who do not have malpractice insurance must complete a four-hour self-assessment online, evaluating their law firm management and business practices.<sup>154</sup> The self-assessment is administered by the Attorney Registration and Disciplinary Commission (ARDC), the Illinois Supreme Court agency that regulates Illinois lawyers.<sup>155</sup> Uninsured lawyers who fail to complete the self-assessment cannot register in the following year to renew their license and may be administratively suspended.<sup>156</sup>

South Dakota requires [non-covered] lawyers to disclose the lack of insurance at the formation of the attorney-client relationship.

A vast majority of common law countries outside the U.S. (as well as civil law countries) require some form of malpractice insurance for lawyers in private practice.

The self-assessment is confidential, and also provides free CLE credit.<sup>157</sup> The self-assessment covers the following topics: technology; conflicts; fees and billing; client relations; trust accounting; wellness; civility and professionalism; and diversity and inclusion.<sup>158</sup> Of those lawyers who have completed the self-assessment, a large majority have responded positively to the program.<sup>159</sup>

d) South Dakota's Direct Disclosure Model

Of the 25 states that require lawyers to make disclosures regarding whether they carry malpractice insurance, at least seven require the disclosure be made directly to clients.<sup>160</sup> Among the most stringent of those seven states is South Dakota, which adopted its rule in 1999.<sup>161</sup> For lawyers who do not carry a minimum of $100,000 in insurance, South Dakota requires the lawyers to disclose the lack of insurance at the formation of the attorney-client relationship.<sup>162</sup> The Rule further requires the lawyer to disclose the information in every written communication with the client on firm letterhead and in all advertising.<sup>163</sup> Some anecdotal evidence suggests that the purchase of insurance increased around the time of the implementation of the disclosure rule in South Dakota.<sup>164</sup> Currently, in South Dakota, approximately 6% of lawyers in private practice are uninsured, with 8.4% of small firm and solo lawyers in private practice uninsured.<sup>165</sup>

e) International Regulatory Schemes

The vast majority of common law countries outside the U.S. (as well as civil law countries) require some form of malpractice insurance for lawyers in private practice.<sup>166</sup> All Australian states, all Canadian provinces and territories, the great majority of countries in the European Union, and several Asian countries require insurance of

9. Other Recent State Efforts to Explore Mandatory Malpractice Insurance

a) California

At the direction of the state legislature in 2017, the State Bar of California has appointed a Malpractice Insurance Working Group to conduct a review and study of errors and omissions insurance for lawyers licensed in California.<sup>169</sup> The Working Group is considering enhanced disclosure requirements, mandating insurance as a condition of licensure, developing a PMBR program, and promoting voluntary insurance.<sup>170</sup> The Working Group actively sought public comment from both the public and attorneys who provide reduced cost services.<sup>171</sup> The period for public comment closed on November 5, 2018.<sup>172</sup>

On January 14, 2019, the Working Group voted against recommending mandatory malpractice insurance.<sup>173</sup> The Working Group must report its findings to the State Supreme Court, Legislature, and Bar's Board of Trustees by March 31, 2019.<sup>174</sup>

b) Georgia

In late 2018, the State Bar of Georgia convened a Professional Liability Insurance Committee to study and make recommendations concerning lawyer malpractice insurance coverage.<sup>175</sup> The Committee has met three times since December 13, 2018, and currently is considering two alternative proposed rules: One of the proposed rules would impose a mandatory malpractice insurance requirement and the other would impose an insurance disclosure requirement to the state bar.<sup>176</sup> The Committee intends to submit a proposed rule to the State Bar of Georgia's Board of Governors at its March 2019 meeting.<sup>177</sup>

c) Nevada

During 2017 to 2018, a Task Force of the State Bar of Nevada investigated whether to institute a mandatory malpractice insurance program in Nevada.<sup>178</sup> As in Washington, Nevada lawyers must report their insurance coverage status annually.<sup>179</sup> As part of its process, Nevada investigated both the Idaho and Oregon models, reviewed the Illinois PBMR model, and looked at forming its own captive insurance company.<sup>180</sup> It further conducted a public focus group, which revealed that the public is generally uninformed about malpractice insurance requirements, or the lack thereof, among lawyers.<sup>181</sup>

On June 29, 2018, the State Bar of Nevada submitted a petition to the Supreme Court of Nevada seeking adoption of a free-market malpractice insurance requirement.<sup>182</sup> The proposed rule amendment would have required every lawyer engaged in private practice to attest to having malpractice insurance coverage at a minimum limit of $250,000 per occurrence/$250,000 annual aggregate.<sup>183</sup>

In February 2014, the New Jersey Supreme Court formed an Ad Hoc Committee on Attorney Malpractice.<sup>185</sup> The Committee was charged with investigating whether to implement an insurance disclosure rule in accordance with the ABA Model Rule on Insurance Disclosure, as well as whether to implement mandatory malpractice insurance.<sup>186</sup> After three years of study, in June 2017, the Committee issued its report recommending against mandatory malpractice insurance but proposing a court rule requiring lawyers to disclose whether they carry malpractice insurance to the Court and to clients.<sup>187</sup> In a letter dated January 15, 2018, in response to a request for comment on the Committee's Report, the New Jersey State Bar Association agreed with the Committee's recommendation not to impose mandatory malpractice insurance, but opposed its recommendation to mandate direct disclosure.<sup>188</sup> As of February 5, 2019, the recommendation of the Ad Hoc Committee was still pending before the New Jersey Supreme Court, which had yet to take action on the recommendation.<sup>189</sup>

10. Insurance Costs and Availability

As noted above, malpractice insurance premiums vary significantly based on many factors, including years in practice, area of practice, size and practice mix of a firm, lawyer history with malpractice claims and disciplinary actions, state characteristics, and whether lawyers are practicing full-time or part-time, among other factors.<sup>190</sup>

Average premium numbers can vary broadly based on the firm's principal area(s) of practice.<sup>191</sup> According to the ABA Profile, the practice areas of personal injury (plaintiff), real estate, family law, estate planning, collection/bankruptcy, criminal law, and certain business/corporate law practices have the highest incidences of malpractice claims.<sup>192</sup> Not surprisingly, insurance premiums tend to be higher in many of those practice areas.<sup>193</sup>

Basic malpractice policies with modest coverage levels are available to most practitioners at reasonable cost, including those practicing solo or in small firms.<sup>194</sup> Based on ALPS-specific data, the average premium of Washington lawyers based on current market trends is $2,500.<sup>195</sup> However, the average premium amount reflects all insured practitioners, some of whom may carry coverage amounts of $1,000,000 or more.<sup>196</sup> According to ALPS, in Idaho, which launched its mandatory malpractice requirement in 2018, the average premium for ALPS' Basic policy issued to solo practitioners (the primary demographic of uninsured lawyers) without prior acts coverage was approximately $1,200 for the mandated limit of liability of $100,000 per occurrence/$300,000 aggregate.<sup>197</sup> ALPS' average premium per Idaho solo practitioner was $2,200, an average that included lawyers who had reached "full maturity" and purchased a variety of different limits of liability.<sup>198</sup> According to Diane Minnich, Executive Director of the Idaho State Bar, reported insurance premiums averaged between $2,000 and $3,000.<sup>199</sup> From the information available, it does not appear that insurance rates have gone up in Idaho as a result of the malpractice insurance mandate, though Idaho has had only one reporting cycle since the rule's implementation,<sup>200</sup> so trends may become more apparent with time. However, consistent with how the market operates, premiums will go up in the next several reporting cycles, especially for first-time insurance purchasers and new lawyers.<sup>201</sup>

New attorneys can expect their premiums to increase gradually by an average of 15% year-over-year for the first five years after they start practice, and then those premiums level off.

New lawyers pay noticeably lower malpractice insurance premiums than more experienced lawyers.<sup>202</sup> This is because virtually all malpractice insurance policies are written on a “claims made” basis, meaning that if a claim is filed against an insured lawyer today for an event that occurred two years ago, that lawyer’s current insurer covers the claim, whether or not that insurer provided a policy when the claimed event occurred.<sup>203</sup> Insurers set premiums to provide resources to pay claims on incidents that happened in the past.<sup>204</sup> A first-year lawyer was not practicing in the past, and thus represents a lower risk to insurers.<sup>205</sup> New attorneys can expect their premiums to increase gradually by an average of 15% year-over-year for the first five years after they start practice, and then those premiums level off.<sup>206</sup> A previously uninsured lawyer obtaining insurance for the first time will be in the same premium position as the new lawyer because, on claims made policies, insurers provide coverage beginning from the start date of the policy and exclude prior acts.<sup>207</sup> The start date is the retroactive date for the life of the policy, which means that as with new lawyers, the more years a lawyer maintains a policy, the more the premium will increase until the end of the maturity process.<sup>208</sup>

Some malpractice insurance policies include a free extended reporting period for claims, or “tail” coverage for attorneys who have been with a specific insurance provider for a period of consecutive years (usually five) and retire.<sup>209</sup> Tail coverage can be expensive (an unlimited tail can be 300% of the expiring premium) for retiring lawyers who do not qualify for a free extended reporting period endorsement or who do not have a relatively long history with a particular carrier.<sup>210</sup>

C. WSBA MEMBER CONCERNS AND TASK FORCE RESPONSES

During a comment period ending December 1, 2018, the Task Force received over 580 written comments from WSBA members raising a variety of different concerns and/or criticisms of a mandatory malpractice insurance requirement.<sup>211</sup> At the request of the Task Force, staff categorized all of the comments received along common themes and prepared a snapshot summarizing the results of that sorting.<sup>212</sup> The chart below represents the results of that theme categorization.

Comment Theme Distribution by Percentage

The Task Force concluded that it would be helpful to address many of those general concerns directly, providing additional background on why it decided to make a particular recommendation or chose not to follow a suggested approach.

<sup>211</sup> The Task Force accepted and compiled member comments from its inception in January 2018 through its publicized comment deadline of December 1, 2018. The work of the Task Force and its solicitation of member comment was publicized throughout 2018 by means of informational articles and progress reports appearing in NWLawyer, Take Note, and through other forms of direct communication with members, such as email communications.

<sup>212</sup> WSBA Staff, MMI Task Force Comments Snapshot - Final (January 2019), https://www.wsba.org/docs/default-source/legal-community/committees/mandatory-malpractice-insurance-task-force/mmi-task-force-comments-snapshot.pdf?sfvrsn=17fe03f1\_2 (the Snapshot represented a best effort to categorize comments received, given that the substance of many of the comments was unclear or was subject to interpretation). The full set of comments has been made available to the Board of Governors for its review and is publicly available on the WSBA website at <https://www.wsba.org/Legal-Community/Committees-Boards-and-Other-Groups/mandatory-malpractice-insurance-task-force>.

1. Cost of Malpractice Insurance

The number one concern expressed in written comments from WSBA members—20% of all comments—listed the cost of malpractice insurance as a reason lawyers should not be required to maintain a malpractice insurance policy.

The Task Force has received input from a variety of industry professionals as to the reasons for a wide range in the cost of malpractice insurance. Premiums are based on a variety of factors, including but not limited to: the nature of the lawyer’s practice; whether the lawyer is working full-time or part-time; years in practice; the practice mix of the firm; an individual lawyer’s history with malpractice claims; and disciplinary history. The Task Force, as a group, is sensitive to the economic impact the cost of malpractice insurance may have on an individual lawyer’s business. The Task Force nevertheless concludes that the professional obligation to protect client interests supersedes the potential financial impact on an individual lawyer’s business. That is, the Task Force members uniformly agreed that, from a client protection standpoint, the client’s interests are paramount.

From a client
protection standpoint,
the client’s interests
are paramount.

The Task Force also received information regarding Idaho’s experience with mandatory malpractice coverage. Idaho instituted mandatory coverage of $100K per occurrence/$300K aggregate beginning in 2018. From the information available, insurance rates in Idaho do not appear to have risen for the lawyer population as a whole as a result of the mandate; however, given the program’s infancy, more information may be available in the future. The average premium for an ALPS Basic policy for $100K per occurrence/$300K aggregate issued to a solo practitioner without prior acts coverage was approximately $1,200. That amount is expected to increase annually by about 15% as the lawyer’s length of exposure grows, until the lawyer’s premium level matures after six years. All things remaining equal, it is likely that the $1,200 average for an ALPS Basic policy in Idaho will grow after six years to close to $2,400 per year.

The Task Force requested that ALPS provide hypothetical examples of Washington malpractice insurance premiums under the recommended minimum of $250K per occurrence/$500K aggregate as a means of illustrating the likely range of premiums lawyers in this state could expect. The examples are as follows:

Firm A: Solo practitioner located in Seattle. Purchasing a Retroactive Date (Retro Date)<sup>213</sup> Inception policy on the Basic form (no First <sup>213</sup> A ‘retroactive date’ is generally the date from which a law firm holds uninterrupted malpractice insurance coverage. The purpose of the retro date is to exclude claims arising from any work undertaken prior to the date shown on the declaration page of the lawyer’s insurance policy. Email, Newbold to Task Force Member Startzel, Dec. 14, 2018, on file with WSBA. The retroactive date is thus the inception date of the policy. Dollar Defense (FDD))<sup>214</sup> with a $5,000 deductible. All work focused in corporate and business transactions. No claims, bar complaints, or disciplinary history. Firm established date is 1/28/10, operating uninsured.

Premium: . . . . . $1,018
Fully matured: . . . . . $2,418

Firm B: Solo practitioner located in Kennewick. Purchasing a Retro Date Inception policy on the Basic form (no FDD) with a $10,000 deductible. Majority government work with small estates exposure. No claims, bar complaints, or disciplinary history. Firm established date is 5/1/09, operating uninsured.

Premium: . . . . . $1,082
Fully matured: . . . . . $1,250

Firm C: Two-attorney firm located in Spokane. Purchasing a Retro Date Inception policy on the Basic form (no FDD) with a $5,000 deductible. Generalist firm with areas of practice including defense, personal injury, corporate, estate, and real estate work. No claims, bar complaints, or disciplinary history. Firm established date is 1/1/1961, operating uninsured.

Premium: . . . . . $3,117 (or $1,500 per lawyer)
Fully matured: . . . . . $6,235

If the Task Force recommendation for a minimum $250K per occurrence/$500K aggregate policy is adopted in Washington, the average premiums will be higher than the 2018 experience in Idaho, as the above illustrations demonstrate. The Task Force cannot guarantee specific premium levels, and there will be variations based upon different factors. The Task Force nevertheless concludes that uninsured lawyers will generally be able to obtain coverage for a reasonable premium on the insurance market in Washington.

2. Insurance Requirements for Retired and Semi-retired Lawyers

The second largest number of comments received from WSBA members—10% of all comments—were from licensed lawyers who noted they were either retired, semi-retired, or planning to retire, and as such should not be required to maintain malpractice insurance.

Fully retired lawyers are not engaged in the “private practice of law,” and therefore, by operation of the proposed rule, would not be required to obtain a malpractice insurance policy. Fully retired lawyers would simply need to certify that status, and the insurance requirement would not apply. Apparently, a number of retired

<sup>214</sup> “First Dollar Defense” is a coverage option offered to certain law firms based upon eligibility that states [that] when a firm is faced with a claim, the deductible will apply to damages only[,]” meaning the insurer pays the ‘first dollar’ to defend the claim. FEBRUARY 2019 lawyers maintain their licenses either because they believe that they might want to re-enter practice, or because they intend to continue to be licensed until they have reached the fifty-year mark. On the other hand, lawyers who are “retired” but who still practice on a part-time basis are as capable of making mistakes as any other experienced lawyers. The Task Force concludes that in the interest of client protection, those lawyers should carry a minimum level of insurance so long as they are engaged in private practice. It should be noted that malpractice policy premiums for part-time lawyers frequently will be lower than for full-time practitioners because the lower levels of work translate into lower risks of error.

3. Anticipated Adverse Impact on Pro Bono Services

The Task Force received a number of comments from members who are retired and/or semi-retired but continue to provide legal work only on a pro bono basis and/or a low-cost basis. Members were concerned that a mandatory insurance requirement might be cost prohibitive and force some of those members to discontinue providing pro bono and/or low-cost services. The Task Force is extremely sensitive to this concern. Washington does not have a mandatory pro bono requirement, but the Task Force recognizes that RPC 6.1 strongly encourages lawyers to provide “legal services to those unable to pay.” The Task Force does not want to recommend a requirement that might undermine the aspirational recommendation of RPC 6.1 or materially interfere with a lawyer’s purpose to provide legal services to the underserved.

Emeritus pro bono status is available for those who are retired from the practice of law but wish to provide volunteer legal services through a QLSP.
.....

The Task Force has determined that many lawyers who desire to provide pro bono services (and are not otherwise engaged in private practice) can become affiliated with Bar-approved QLSPs or VLPs and thereby be covered by a malpractice insurance policy. Emeritus pro bono status is available for licensed legal professionals who are otherwise retired from the practice of law but wish to provide volunteer legal services through a QLSP. See APR 3(g). Further, some pro bono practitioners may choose to carry their own insurance. The Task Force recognizes there could be gaps in pro bono services provided in certain Washington State communities. While the overall impact of a malpractice insurance requirement on pro bono service might not be large, the WSBA should take positive action to reduce the possibility of a material effect on the number of lawyers willing to volunteer to perform pro bono services. The primary goal of a mandatory malpractice requirement is to protect the public, and that need for protection applies with equal force to legal services provided to the disadvantaged.

4. Concerns about Uninsurability Due to Legal Specialty

Several members raised a concern that they had been historically unable to obtain malpractice insurance coverage due to the unique nature of their practice, such as transactional securities. The Task Force has not been provided with documentary evidence supporting the assertion that any Washington State lawyer has been unable to obtain malpractice insurance due to a unique specialty.

Indeed, the Task Force has been provided information to the contrary. The Idaho State Bar instituted a mandatory malpractice insurance requirement of coverages at a minimum of $100,000 per occurrence with a $300,000 annual aggregate, effective January 2018. Diane Minnich, Executive Director of the Idaho State Bar, gave a presentation to the Task Force regarding Idaho's experience with instituting mandatory malpractice insurance coverage. Ms. Minnich was the contact point for all Idaho lawyers that had concerns or questions about the requirement and the availability of insurance. Ms. Minnich confirmed that no Idaho lawyer, regardless of specialty, has reported being unable to obtain malpractice insurance coverage based upon the new requirement. Further, in Washington, limited license legal technicians have not reported problems obtaining insurance.

The Task Force received presentations, as noted above, from insurance industry professionals and recognizes that premiums may vary based on a variety of factors. The Task Force understands that lawyers practicing in unique specialties, such as entertainment law, patent law, or transactional law, may be required to obtain coverage through a secondary market. The premium costs in the secondary market may be higher because these insurers view the unique practices as posing a higher risk. However, if a malpractice event occurs involving a lawyer in a unique field, the potential damage to the client could be substantial. The Task Force therefore believes that there is at least equal responsibility for lawyers that practice in specialized fields to obtain malpractice insurance coverage.

5. "Moral Hazard"

A few WSBA members raised a concern that mandatory malpractice insurance will give rise to a "moral hazard" situation. Economists have developed the "moral hazard" theory, which suggests that an individual will be more likely to engage in risky behavior if that person knows that he or she is protected against adverse consequences because another party (e.g., an insurer) will incur the costs.<sup>215</sup> Applying the moral hazard analysis to legal malpractice, the argument is that some lawyers will provide either risky or incompetent legal services because they know that any adverse consequences will be covered by a malpractice policy. The Task Force rejects this argument. The Task Force simply does not believe that lawyers will abdicate professional responsibilities owed to clients because there is a safety net of malpractice coverage. Insurance is unlikely to encourage attorneys to shirk their obligations under RPC 1.1 to represent the client with “legal knowledge, skill, thoroughness and preparation reasonably necessary for the representation.”

6. Insurance and Increasing Claims against Lawyers

Several comments from WSBA members argued that a drawback of mandatory insurance is that if all lawyers were covered by malpractice insurance, the number of malpractice claims and associated lawsuits against lawyers would increase. The Task Force agrees that this will likely occur. But that is the point. If more clients who have been injured have potential access to the courts and to a remedy, then the insurance mandate is doing precisely what it is supposed to do: provide access to justice.

7. Adverse Impact on Public Attitude towards Lawyers

The Task Force received a small number of comments to the effect that the public might think less highly of lawyers if it is known that lawyers need insurance because they make mistakes. But the Task Force received information that suggests the contrary. In fact, members of the public widely believe that all lawyers already carry insurance and are surprised when they learn that malpractice insurance is not already mandatory.<sup>216</sup> Further, the Task Force believes that to the extent there are existing negative public attitudes about lawyers, these will not be materially affected one way or the other by an insurance mandate.

8. Mandatory Insurance Not in Lawyers’ Best Interests

Several impassioned comments were received from lawyers who stated that as an association of lawyers, the WSBA should focus on what is in the best interests of lawyers rather than the interests of the public at large. The Task Force does not agree with this viewpoint. See, e.g., GR 12.1 (“Legal services must be regulated in the public interest.”).

D. POTENTIAL APPROACHES CONSIDERED BY THE TASK FORCE

After compiling a considerable amount of data and other information summarized above, and after hearing from researchers, Bar staff, regulators from other states, insurance industry professionals, and Washington lawyers, the Task Force has concluded that the existing disclosure requirement is insufficient to adequately protect most consumers of legal services. Uninsured lawyers pose, and continue to pose, a distinct risk to their clients.

While it may be appropriate for lawyers to evaluate and assume personal risks created by lack of malpractice insurance, the Task Force concluded that it is simply not fair to the clients. Clients of uninsured lawyers often have a difficult time obtaining compensation from those lawyers after a malpractice event. Clients of uninsured lawyers have an especially difficult time finding legal representation for legitimate claims against uninsured lawyers because malpractice plaintiffs' lawyers routinely decline to handle those claims. The Washington Supreme Court's Client Protection Fund cannot and does not make payments based on malpractice; if it did, and if it were fully funded through license fees or assessments, Washington would have the equivalent of Oregon's Professional Liability Fund.

In the Task Force's view, there is a distinct problem that directly affects the public interest, and a solution is needed. The Washington Supreme Court as the supervisory authority over the practice of law in this state, regulates the profession to protect the public and maintain the integrity of the legal profession, and it does so by adopting rules for the regulation of the practice of law. GR 12. Lawyers make mistakes. A license to practice law is a privilege, and no lawyer should be immune from his or her responsibility to clients injured because of those mistakes.

The Task Force considered a number of possible approaches to more effectively address the risk to clients posed by uninsured Washington lawyers. These approaches are summarized below, followed by a more detailed discussion of the approaches considered and the considerations, pro and con, relevant to each potential solution for dealing with the problem identified. The Report concludes by recommending consideration of a rule to implement a system of malpractice insurance for lawyers as a condition of licensing.

Lawyers make mistakes. A license to practice law is a privilege, and no lawyer should be immune from his or her responsibility to clients injured because of those mistakes.
.....

SUMMARY CHART OF POSSIBLE SOLUTIONS

1. Do nothing and maintain the status quo.

- No resource cost or fiscal impact on WSBA
- Does not address the identified problems for clients in any way

2. Implement a Proactive Management-Based Regulation model

(e.g., Illinois “PMBR” model, which increases training requirements for uninsured lawyers, particularly in practice management and bookkeeping).

- Directly addresses issues of competence/practice management but not financial responsibility for professional errors
- Practical effect of PMBR model in Illinois not yet known
- May reduce lawyer errors, but does not provide protection to clients when claims do arise
- May encourage acquisition of insurance, but insufficient evidence at this time

3. Implement more extensive malpractice insurance disclosure requirements

(e.g., South Dakota model, which requires direct disclosure of a lawyer’s lack of malpractice insurance to clients and prospective clients).

- Low cost to administer
- Impact on conduct appears significant in South Dakota, although the potential impact in Washington is unknown
- Appears to encourage acquisition of insurance
- Does not address financial responsibility when professional errors occur
- Noncompliance puts lawyers at risk of permanent record of professional discipline

4. Combine PMBR with more extensive disclosure requirements

(Combine 2 and 3 above, i.e., require uninsured lawyers to both undergo self-assessment and education on risk reduction, practice management, and bookkeeping and directly disclose lack of insurance).

- Double requirement of extra mandatory training courses and vivid disclosure to clients of lack of insurance might cause many uninsured attorneys to purchase coverage

5. Implement mandatory malpractice insurance through a free market model (e.g., Idaho model).

- Provides diverse coverage options to members
- Free market allocates risks and costs based on practice character, claims history, and other underwriting standards
- Highly competitive market provides reasonable cost and options for coverage, exclusions, and deductibles (Idaho reports no lawyers unable to obtain insurance)
- Modest operating costs
- Guarantees available coverage for vast majority of client claims
- Adverse reaction by members who feel “forced” to purchase insurance that they don’t want

6. Implement professional liability fund model (e.g., Oregon model, requiring all private practice lawyers with a primary office in Oregon to participate in the Bar-operated Professional Liability Fund, with coverage of all members).

- Coverage available for all members
- Robust practice management, member support, and claims support systems
- Relatively high annual premium (in current market) and high operating costs
- Large staff required to administer and significant fiscal impact to implement
- Choice restricted to single provider
- Spreads risks across all classes of lawyers, with internal “cross-subsidization”

7. Consider other approaches (e.g., allowing letters of credit or surety bonds for uninsured lawyers).

- Client ability to obtain sufficient recovery on surety bonds is unclear
- Letters of credit are as expensive or more expensive than insurance premiums, and would not typically provide defense costs for covered attorneys

1. Do Nothing and Maintain the Status Quo

This “no action” approach would leave things as they are today, with roughly 14% of Washington lawyers in private practice declining to carry malpractice insurance. The insurance coverage disclosure requirement notwithstanding, it is not reasonable to assume that most consumers check the WSBA website to ascertain whether their prospective lawyer has a malpractice insurance policy. On the contrary, anecdotal information received by many Task Force members suggests that most of the general public (and indeed, many lawyers) assume that all lawyers carry malpractice insurance. The Task Force has concluded that the status quo would not address the problem identified: Uninsured lawyers would, like other practicing lawyers, continue to commit errors, clients would be harmed, and those clients would continue to have a very difficult time engaging plaintiffs’ lawyers to represent them in pursuing their claims. Where clients are able to seek compensation, they would continue to encounter problems collecting judgments because of defendant lawyers who shield assets or declare bankruptcy. In other words, this “solution” is no solution at all.

The Illinois
“PMBR” Model
.....

2. Implement a Proactive Management-Based Regulation (“PMBR”) Model

The Proactive Management-Based Regulation approach, described above, requires that uninsured lawyers must, every two years, complete a four-hour interactive, online self-assessment regarding the operation of their law firms. They are then provided with a list of resources to help improve their law practices. The educational programs and resources are “aimed at helping lawyers avoid disciplinary problems before they occur,”<sup>217</sup> providing uninsured lawyers with information and tools that also might help prevent actions or inaction leading to incidences of malpractice. One highlight of the Illinois approach is its assessment in practice management and bookkeeping. One way of looking at the PMBR program is that it provides lawyers with some of the questions and potential training that insurance companies regularly provide to the lawyers they insure. The Task Force believes that Illinois’ PMBR approach might result in some improved practices among uninsured lawyers in that state, and might reduce incidences of malpractice as well as disciplinary rule violations (PMBR’s primary purpose). In any event, because the program is new, no empirical data is available. The program might also induce some lawyers to obtain insurance in order to avoid spending four hours completing the assessment. (Note, however, that Illinois’ program satisfies four hours of a lawyer’s MCLE obligation.) But the most significant problem with the PMBR model is that training in practice management and record-keeping does not necessarily prevent lawyer errors. After all, lawyers in firms with excellent record-keeping and careful deadline-tracking systems still make mistakes. PMBR does not address the impact on clients when uninsured lawyers commit errors that have severe financial consequences.

The South Dakota Model

3. Impose More Extensive Insurance Disclosure Requirements

This approach would be based on South Dakota’s RPC 1.4(c) requirement that every lawyer without at least $100,000 in malpractice insurance disclose, on the lawyer’s letterhead and in every written communication to a client, that “This [lawyer][firm] is not covered by professional liability insurance.” As a rule of professional conduct, the potential consequence of noncompliance is professional discipline. South Dakota’s disclosure approach is low-cost from an administrative standpoint and it appears to have reduced the number of uninsured lawyers. At the same time, South Dakota, with a much smaller population and less diverse economy, has a much smaller number of lawyers than Washington. It is difficult to assess whether this type of disclosure approach would be as effective here. Many nonlawyers do not know how to find and engage a lawyer, and nonlawyers are often unskilled at reading engagement letters and even less able to evaluate the risks involved in hiring an uninsured lawyer. Finally, notwithstanding South Dakota’s disclosure requirement, there are still many uninsured lawyers practicing in that state, and when incidences of malpractice occur with damaging consequences, the clients of uninsured lawyers can suffer serious adverse consequences.

Two-pronged Approach
.....

4. Couple Illinois’ PMBR Model with South Dakota’s Direct Disclosure Requirement

Washington State could impose a two-pronged approach coupling Illinois’ Proactive Management-Based Regulation with South Dakota’s direct disclosure model. Conceivably, the PMBR portion of the requirement could be strengthened so that the four-hour assessment would be in addition to other MCLE requirements, and uninsured lawyers could also be required to take a special multi-hour course in practice management, record-keeping and other skills. These additional hours of requirements might encourage some lawyers simply to purchase insurance. A Washington rule might also provide that the PMBR assessment and training be undertaken at the cost of the uninsured lawyer. Obviously, the effectiveness of this approach in encouraging the purchase of malpractice insurance cannot be ascertained in advance. However, like the two possible solutions described immediately above, this approach would never address the impact on those clients whose lawyers remain uninsured and commit errors that have severe financial consequences.

The Idaho Model
.....

5. Implement Mandatory Malpractice Insurance through a Free Market Model

This approach is based on Idaho’s recent mandate that all lawyers in private practice obtain malpractice insurance at minimum specified coverage levels ($100,000/$300,000), and that those lawyers obtain their professional policies on the open market. In Idaho, there is no evidence that any lawyers have been unable to obtain insurance policies. The highly competitive character of the existing malpractice insurance market appears to have kept annual premiums at reasonable levels for Idaho lawyers. Although there has been some adverse reaction from Idaho lawyers who would prefer to be without insurance, this approach guarantees that lawyers for most clients will have sufficient coverage in the event of a malpractice incident leading to financial loss to a client. This model could be implemented in Washington with modest administrative costs by enforcing the mandate through lawyer certification made in connection with the annual licensing process. One advantage of the free market approach to most lawyers is that insurance underwriters will set premiums to reflect the expected risks associated with various law practices and the history of individual attorneys. That means that most lawyers will pay relatively low premiums, but some will pay more for insurance. The actual mandated level can be set at a level high enough to cover the vast majority of potential claims, while not at such a high coverage amount as to make insurance unreasonably expensive or unavailable to some practitioners.

The Oregon “PLF” Model
.....

6. Implement Mandatory Malpractice Insurance through a Centralized Professional Liability Fund (“PLF”) Model

Oregon’s Professional Liability Fund is the model for this approach. Washington could similarly require that all lawyers in private practice participate in a single insurance pool administered by WSBA and funded through an assessment on the participating lawyers.<sup>218</sup> The advantage of this mechanism is its ability to provide universal lawyer access to insurance. In addition, Oregon’s robust practice management and claims management systems successfully reduce incidences of malpractice while causing prompt notification of potential claims and enabling the PLF to respond swiftly to and manage potential claims.

<sup>218</sup> In the late 1980s, the WSBA previously considered and rejected such a proposal. Specifically, in 1986, the WSBA Board of Governor’s considered creating a professional liability fund and system for requiring malpractice insurance, which would have been incorporated into the former Admission to Practice Rules. Status Report on Malpractice Insurance Coverage and Professional Liability Fund Proposal, Wash. St. B. News, October 1986, at 27. In December 1986, by a 7-4 vote, the BOG approved the proposal for submission to the Supreme Court, subject to submission of the issue to a referendum of the membership. Carole Grayson, Washington State Bar Newslines: The Board’s Work, Wash. St. B. News, January 1987, at 29. The membership defeated the referendum by a vote of 6,971 to 1,693. Carole Grayson, Washington State Bar Newslines: The Board’s Work, Wash. St. B. News, March 1987, at 16.

The Oregon coverage levels ($300,000/$300,000) are sufficient to handle most claims, thus protecting almost all clients in that state. Indeed, Oregon’s PLF staff have been quite effective at promptly addressing and resolving small claims. One disadvantage of the Oregon approach is that it is relatively expensive ($3,300 per year per lawyer) given the modest coverage levels ($300,000/$300,000). This is because of the costs of operating a system that provides robust staff and programmatic support to lawyers, and because the flat universal fee means that costs are spread among all lawyers, i.e., lawyers who represent a low risk profile are essentially subsidizing those whose practices or personal histories might generate higher risk (and higher premiums) on the open market. Setting up and operating a new PLF in Washington State would entail substantial staff time and a significant commitment of financial resources. In addition, the Oregon system does not provide lawyers with any ability to tailor their policies by adjusting coverage amounts or policy terms.

Letter of Credit or a Performance Bond
.....

7. Use the Free Market Model but Permit Lawyers to Substitute Alternate Financial Guarantee Instruments

This system would be based on the Idaho “free market” insurance model but would permit lawyers to provide an alternate financial instrument in lieu of a malpractice insurance policy. In order to assure prompt access to amounts necessary to pay a judgment, a bank letter of credit or a performance bond equaling the maximum coverage amount would be provided to a central administrator (presumably at the WSBA). A letter of credit would provide, for example, that the administrator could file a certificate with the provider bank that the lawyer’s former client obtained a final judgment in a malpractice case in a specific amount (up to the required maximum), and then the bank would immediately pay that amount to the administrator. The administrator would remit the amount to the claimant. A performance bond might work similarly.

There are several potential concerns with this approach. First, in contrast with malpractice insurance policies, letters of credit and performance bonds would not cover defense costs for the lawyer against whom a claim is made. More importantly, banks providing letters of credit charge annual fees that typically equal or exceed the cost of normal malpractice insurance premiums. In addition, letter of credit banks require the “account party” for whom the bank issues a letter of credit to post collateral equaling the amount of the highest possible draw. For example, a lawyer providing a letter of credit as a substitute for a $300,000 insurance requirement would have to post $300,000 in collateral and pay a letter of credit fee in the range of several thousand dollars. Alternatively, those who work with performance bonds often find that the companies providing those bonds do not make prompt payments, or dispute the amount to be paid (often paying just half of the bond amount). To address that, it might be prudent to require a performance bond equaling twice the minimum insurance amount. The bottom line is that alternate financial instruments present significant complications and cost concerns.

E. RECOMMENDATIONS

After considering the information and findings described above, listening to the concerns and suggestions of hundreds of WSBA members, and debating a variety of alternate approaches, the WSBA’s Mandatory Malpractice Insurance Task Force makes the recommendations outlined below. It should be emphasized that the Task Force listened very carefully to the diverse concerns voiced by commenting lawyers, and adjusted a number of recommendations based on those comments. (The Task Force’s analysis and response to the main categories of comments are provided under “WSBA Member Concerns and Task Force Responses”.)

1. Mandate a Basic Level of Malpractice Insurance for All Lawyers in Private Practice

Active Washington-licensed attorneys engaged in the private practice of law, with specified exemptions, should be required to be covered by continuous, uninterrupted malpractice insurance. Attorneys should be required to obtain minimum levels of malpractice insurance in the private marketplace. The required minimum coverage should be $250,000 per occurrence/$500,000 total per year (“$250K/$500K”). This requirement should be implemented through court rule.

Comment: The absence of malpractice insurance coverage for 14% of Washington lawyers in private practice poses a distinct risk to clients and to the lawyers themselves. It may be appropriate for lawyers to evaluate and assume personal risks created by lack of malpractice insurance. However, that is not fair to clients. As noted above, clients of uninsured lawyers face significant difficulties recovering from those lawyers after a malpractice event, and the Washington Supreme Court’s Client Protection Fund cannot make payments based on malpractice. A license to practice law is a privilege, and every lawyer engaged in the business of providing legal services should be financially responsible for the effects of his or her own mistakes. Lack of malpractice insurance is fundamentally an access-to-justice problem. Individual clients with everyday legal needs are more likely to seek representation from uninsured lawyers than will wealthy people or institutions. Mistakes made by lawyers without malpractice insurance have a disproportionate impact on low and middle income Washingtonians. This is simply unfair, and it is a problem that can be addressed as a regulatory measure.

The Task Force reviewed the range of potential approaches described in the preceding section of this Report. It determined that the Illinois-style PMBR approach might lead to an improvement in practice-management skills but would not provide protection to

Required Malpractice
Insurance
($250K/$500K)

clients when legitimate malpractice claims arise, as they inevitably do. Further, Illinois' PMBR approach provides no incentives for lawyers to purchase insurance because the required four-hour on-line assessment is free, is a substitute for regular CLE hours, and lawyers are not required to enroll in the subsequent skills programs if the assessment suggests that might be useful. The South Dakota approach of "super-disclosure" is attractive because it is low-cost and has been relatively successful in reducing the percentage of lawyers without insurance in that state. However, disclosure is not the equivalent of coverage, and it does not protect clients who believe they have a legitimate basis to pursue a malpractice claim. Oregon's mandatory Professional Liability Fund has proved quite successful and handles small claims well, but it is expensive, would have significant startup costs, and would require the development of substantial staff capacity. Further, comments received by the Task Force suggest that Oregon's one-size-fits-all approach might not be viewed as compatible with the free market attitude of many Washington lawyers.

After substantial discussion, the Task Force has decided to recommend a free-market model analogous to the system recently implemented in Idaho. Task Force members concluded that this will provide the least expensive and most flexible approach. Further, the WSBA already has designated an endorsed provider (ALPS) through a competitive process, and in Idaho, that same provider has been successful in helping to ensure that every lawyer has access to an affordable insurance policy.

The Task Force considered possible coverage level requirements of $100K/$300K, $250K/$250K, and $250K/$500K. The Task Force recommends mandatory minimum coverage at $250K/$500K. Idaho's minimum of $100K/$300K appears too low for Washington State practice because, based on the data reviewed, in many instances $100,000 would not cover the cost of payment to a successful claimant and the costs of representing the lawyer. Upon consideration, the premium cost difference between a $250K/$250K and $250K/$500K policy would not be substantial, with an estimated one to two hundred dollar difference annually. Because most claims are for less than $250,000, the Task Force determined that a policy coverage minimum of $250,000/$500,000 will likely be sufficient to cover the large majority of claims. The insurance requirement can be fulfilled by the lawyer himself/herself, or by his or her law firm.

Coverage Minimum of $250,000/$500,000

The Task Force also discussed tail coverage, deductibles, defense costs, and prior acts (retroactive) coverage. It determined that tail coverage issues will likely be addressed in some individual insurance policies, but that obligatory tail coverage posed significant regulatory impediments. The Task Force has decided not to recommend a deductible size limitation requirement because deductible levels will not affect coverage and because such matters are most effectively decided by the insurer and the insured. The Task Force further noted the impracticality of mandating prior acts coverage, because this can be very expensive to purchase on the open market. However, the Task Force emphasizes the importance of maintaining continuous, uninterrupted coverage in order to ensure legitimate claims are covered.

The malpractice insurance requirement should be implemented by an amendment to the Admission and Practice Rules promulgated by the Washington Supreme Court. The Task Force’s draft proposed rule appears as Appendix E to this Report.

2. Exemptions from the Malpractice Insurance Requirement

Only active lawyers engaged in the private practice of law should be subject to the mandatory malpractice insurance requirement. Exemptions should be provided for the substantial number of lawyers whose practices are not of a “private practice” character that calls for insurance requirements. In this context, “private practice” means the provision of legal services to clients other than a lawyer’s employing organization and that organization’s representatives and employees in their organizational capacities. Specific exemptions should include:

1. Employment as a government lawyer;
2. Employment as a judge;
3. Employment by a corporation or business entity, including nonprofits;
4. Employee or independent contractor for a nonprofit legal aid or public defense office that provides insurance to its employees or independent contractors;
5. Mediation or arbitration;
6. Volunteer pro bono service for a qualified legal services provider as defined in APR 1(e)(8) that provides insurance to its volunteers; and
7. Other lawyers either not “actively licensed” or not “engaged in the private practice of law,” including, for example, retired lawyers maintaining their licenses, judicial law clerks, and Rule 9 interns.

Comment: The Task Force has considered a large number of proposed exemptions suggested by WSBA members. These have included existing exemptions from the insurance disclosure requirements of APR 26 (e.g., full-time government lawyers) and others that were suggested. Based on the primary goal of protecting clients, the Task Force recommends that all actively licensed lawyers engaged in the private practice of law be required to comply with the malpractice insurance requirement, except those recommended exemptions discussed in more detail below.

whose practices are not of a “private practice” character.

a) Recommended Exemptions

Fundamentally, the recommended “exemptions,” with the exception of the pro bono category, can be thought of as exclusions because these are categories of lawyers who are not in private practice and therefore not serving private clients who need the protection that malpractice insurance affords.

1. Employment as a government lawyer. This category would include lawyers who are employed by:

- The U.S. Government;
- State of Washington;
- A federally-recognized American-Indian tribal government; or
- A county, regional, or city government or any other government body, board or commission.

Governments, as well as private organizations, are often self-insured. In any event, actions by their own employees that might constitute malpractice are treated as acts of the organizations themselves. Therefore, a requirement for outside malpractice insurance is illogical for these lawyers. At the same time, if full-time government lawyers choose to engage in private practice apart from their regular work, they would be required to obtain malpractice insurance (unless they fall within one of the other exemptions, such as performing pro bono work through a QLSP).

2. Employment as a judge. Judges, administrative law judges, and hearing officers will qualify for an exemption if the lawyer certifies that he or she is not actively engaged in the private practice of law. Adjudicators are neutrals and are not “representing” any clients when they are acting in an adjudicative capacity.

3. Employment by a corporation or business entity, including nonprofits. A lawyer who provides legal services, solely as an employee, of a private for-profit or non-profit corporation or business entity would not be “engaged in the private practice of law.” In-house lawyers are typically covered by an employer’s errors and omissions policy or through the employer’s self-insurance. Similar to lawyers employed by government agencies, house counsel’s malpractice is treated as an act of the organization itself, so an insurance requirement is inapposite. At the same time, a lawyer who provides legal services to a private company as an independent contractor (rather than as an employee) would not be entitled to this exemption because the lawyer would be deemed to be engaged in the private practice of law.

4. Employee or independent contractor for a nonprofit legal aid or public defense office that provides insurance to its employees or independent contractors. A lawyer employed to provide public defense services or civil legal aid through an organization that insures its employees or independent contractors would be insured for the purposes of the malpractice insurance mandate. This exemption anticipates that there may be some circumstances under which lawyers will not be insured when providing indigent service or civil legal aid representation to clients. This exemption makes clear to those lawyers who are not insured through any organization that they must obtain malpractice insurance. If lawyers who qualify for this exemption choose to engage in private practice apart from their work as public defenders or in civil legal aid, they would be required to obtain malpractice insurance (unless they fall within one of the other exemptions, such as performing pro bono work through a QLSP).

- 5. Mediation and arbitration. A lawyer can qualify for this exemption if the lawyer’s practice is limited exclusively to mediation and arbitration services and therefore, by operation of the rule, the lawyer would not be engaged in the private practice of law. Indeed, mediators, arbitrators, and other adjudicators are not “practicing law” and do not have “clients” as is thought of in the legal representation context.
- 6. Volunteer pro bono service for a qualified legal services provider as defined in APR 1(e)(8) that provides insurance to its volunteers. Task Force research has confirmed that the various QLSP and/or pro bono clinics across the state provide malpractice insurance coverage for their volunteers. Established low-income legal services organizations such as KCBA’s Pro Bono Services Program, Eastside Legal Assistance Program, and Northwest Justice Project, for example, all provide coverage. If the sponsoring non-profit entity does not provide malpractice coverage itself, or through another QLSP, then this exemption would not apply. Further, the exemption would apply only if and to the extent the lawyer is practicing exclusively with one or more insured QLSPs or covered pro bono clinics, and is not representing private clients or engaging in other activities constituting the private practice of law. The Task Force notes that some small-population counties in the state do not have QLSPs operating in them or providing the opportunity for lawyers to provide pro bono services through them. As discussed in more detail elsewhere in this Report, the Task Force recommends that the WSBA focus on this issue and work to encourage or enable lawyers in every county to do pro bono work that is automatically covered by a QLSP’s insurance policy.
- 7. Catchall Category. Any other lawyer who is either not “actively licensed” or not “engaged in the private practice of law” will be exempt from the malpractice insurance mandate. Individuals who may fit within this category include, among others, judicial law clerks, Rule 9 interns, inactive members, unemployed lawyers, and fully retired lawyers who do not practice law but choose to maintain their active licenses without engaging in the private practice of law.

b) Exemptions Considered But Not Recommended

The Task Force examined several other potential exemptions but concluded that they would not be appropriate. These included:

- 1. Lawyers practicing solely before federal tribunals. These lawyers are engaged in the private practice of law, notwithstanding that their work is before federal rather than state courts or agencies. The Task Force concluded that their clients deserve the same protections afforded to clients who happen to be in state adjudicatory or administrative systems, and therefore an insurance mandate is appropriate.
- 2. Family member exemption. The Task Force received a number of comments from members suggesting a “family member” exemption. The members noted that they provide only limited legal services to “close family” members and this family “benefit” would be eliminated if the members were required to obtain malpractice insurance. The Task Force deliberated about the possible exemption, but the majority voted against creating an exemption for lawyers that assist or advise family members. The primary reasons were that family members are not immune from lawyer malpractice, and further, the Task Force concluded that it was extremely difficult to precisely define those individuals who constitute a “close” family member. Furthermore, while ALPS’ current policies exclude coverage for legal work for family members, many other policies written for Washington lawyers do not have such exclusions, e.g. policies written by the CNA Financial Corporation, Hanover Insurance Group, and Travelers Indemnity Company.<sup>219</sup>
- 3. Lobbying and/or legislative advocacy exemption. The Task Force evaluated an exemption for lawyers who exclusively participate in lobbying and/or legislative advocacy work. The Task Force recognized that GR 24 defines activities that constitute the private practice of law. GR 24(a). The GR also discusses other conduct that is deemed permissible activity of a lawyer, such as “acting as a legislative lobbyist,” but does not define whether that conduct constitutes the practice of law. GR 24(b)(7). The Task Force concluded that an exemption for lobbying and/or legislative advocacy work was inappropriate because each individual lawyer was in the best position to assess whether the lawyer’s work fell within the definition of the practice of law set forth in GR 24(a) as well as RPC 5.7. If the lawyer’s work satisfies the definition of “practicing law” under GR 24(a) and the lawyer is providing those services to private clients, then the lawyer would be required to obtain malpractice insurance.

- 4. Pro bono services provided to a nonprofit organization. The Task Force also considered an exemption for lawyers who exclusively provide pro bono services to a nonprofit organizations (other than as house counsel), as opposed to providing pro bono services to individuals. The Task Force is sensitive to member concerns that malpractice insurance expenses could potentially limit or impact a member's ability to provide pro bono services to a nonprofit organization. The Task Force nevertheless concluded there is no difference between the actual harm of legal malpractice to an organization, as opposed to an individual pro bono client. That is, a nonprofit organization is just as susceptible to legal malpractice and negative consequences flowing therefrom as any other member of the public.
- 5. Lawyers providing pro bono legal services where the services are not provided through a civil legal aid provider that maintains malpractice insurance for its volunteers. Because the lawyer would not have coverage, clients would be unprotected. Lawyers may if they choose, transfer their licenses to emeritus status and work through qualified legal service providers to serve pro bono clients.
- 6. Unaffordable insurance. The Task Force received comments from a number of members regarding concerns that malpractice insurance premiums would be prohibitively expensive and force the lawyer to resign from the Bar and stop the practicing law. The Task Force therefore considered a potential financial hardship exemption. The Task Force understands this same argument was raised in Idaho. The Task Force was provided information, however, that all lawyers in Idaho were able to obtain insurance at a rate the lawyers deemed acceptable. The Task Force received presentations from insurance professionals, including insurance brokers and underwriters, and appreciates that the premium for each individual lawyer may vary based upon a variety of factors, including, but not limited to, the nature of practice; years of practice; claims history; and/or disciplinary history. The Task Force concluded that an affordability exemption could not be drafted with sufficient precision and accuracy given the lack of known parameters and the wide variability in the subjective concept of affordability. The Task Force further noted that evaluation of an affordability exemption would require substantial WSBA administrative resources to review and resolve an individual lawyer's entitlement to such an exemption.

Malpractice insurance coverage managed through the annual licensing process.
.....

7. Washington-licensed lawyers practicing solely out-of-state or out-of-country. Because it is difficult to define precisely where the “practice of law” occurs and difficult to determine if a lawyer claiming to be “out-of-state” is in fact providing legal services in Washington, the Task Force concluded that if a lawyer has a Washington license, the lawyer should carry insurance so that clients are protected. If a lawyer in private practice is certain that he/she will not practice law in Washington, then that lawyer may wish to reconsider whether it makes sense to maintain an active license in this state. If a lawyer’s entitlement to practice elsewhere is based solely on the possession of a Washington state license, then it is a legitimate regulatory objective to require insurance coverage for the legal services provided to private clients.

3. Annual Certification and Enforcement

Licensed lawyers should report whether they are engaged in the private practice of law, and their malpractice insurance coverage status, through the annual licensing process. Failure to comply with the insurance requirement would lead to administrative suspension of the lawyer’s license pursuant to APR 17.

Comment: The Task Force recommends that the malpractice insurance coverage requirement be managed through the existing annual licensing process. This would involve only a minimal allocation of WSBA staff resources given existing processes for administering insurance disclosure under APR 26. Every lawyer would be required to certify annually that he or she is covered by a malpractice insurance policy consistent with the minimum limits described above. Alternatively, the lawyer could certify that he or she qualifies for a recognized exemption. Lawyers who are required to maintain insurance would be required to provide to the WSBA, upon request, specific information such as the name of the insurance carrier, policy number, coverage limits in the specific policy, and dates of coverage. This information provided upon request would not be public. Lawyers would also be obligated to notify the WSBA if at any time they do not renew insurance coverage or if their insurance lapses.

The Task Force recommends that a lawyer’s failure to obtain malpractice coverage by the annual licensing deadline would constitute noncompliance with the licensing requirements in the APR. The Task Force understands that the WSBA Regulatory Services Department would engage in enforcement efforts consistent with the applicable APR for failure to comply with licensing requirements.

WSBA should work to implement a robust
pro bono insurance program statewide.

4. Increasing Insurance Availability for Pro Bono Representation

The WSBA should develop and put into effect an improved statewide program to increase access to malpractice insurance for lawyers whose private practices are limited solely to pro bono representations.

Comment: As described earlier in the Report, a majority of lawyers who provide pro bono services already carry malpractice insurance or are able to obtain coverage through VLPs or QLSPs. However, only 20 of Washington’s 39 counties are served by VLPs, and the unserved counties are typically those with small populations. In order to obtain coverage, otherwise-uninsured lawyers in the unserved counties have to work through a program based elsewhere. This appears to work in many instances, but it is important to make sure that a pro bono client can be matched with an insured lawyer in any community in Washington. As noted above, lawyer malpractice insurance is an access-to-justice issue, and pro bono clients should have the same access to an insured lawyer as anyone else.

A more robust pro bono insurance program statewide will require cooperation and effort with the existing VLPs and QLSPs, with the Statewide Pro Bono Council, and with local and specialized bar associations. The Task Force recommends the WSBA should begin work with these groups to develop and implement an improved statewide program to increase the access to malpractice insurance for lawyers whose private practices are limited solely to pro bono representations. Such a program improvement might be workable (and financially achievable) within the existing pro bono framework. Alternatively, it might require the allocation of additional WSBA or other funds. The development of an expanded pro bono insurance coverage program is beyond the scope of the Task Force’s work. However, while this issue will require a separate initiative that could take time, it should not delay the fundamental decision to move ahead on mandating malpractice insurance coverage.

III. CONCLUSION

With this Report, the Task Force recommends to the WSBA Board of Governors that all actively licensed lawyers in private practice be required to maintain malpractice insurance as a condition of licensure.

Consistent with the directive in its Charter, the Task Force has drafted a rule designed to implement its recommendation. See draft revised APR 26 as Appendix E. The Rule incorporates the Task Force's recommended mandatory minimums and exemptions. The Task Force submits this draft rule for the Board's consideration and any further action the Board deems appropriate.

Mandatory Malpractice Insurance Task Force Charter

MANDATORY MALPRACTICE
INSURANCE TASK FORCE REPORT

FEBRUARY 2019

MANDATORY MALPRACTICE INSURANCE TASK FORCE

(Adopted by the WSBA Board of Governors on September 28, 2017)

CHARTER

Background

Admission and Practice Rule (APR) 26 requires annual reporting of whether a lawyer is covered by professional liability insurance. Washington State does not, as a condition of licensing, require that lawyers have such insurance. By contrast, Washington's two other licenses to practice law (limited practice officers and limited license legal technicians) are, by court rule, obligated to show proof of insurance coverage or demonstrate financial responsibility in order to obtain and maintain their licenses to practice. In 2016, the Board of Governors (BOG) convened a Mandatory Malpractice Insurance Work Group to gather information about jurisdictions that require lawyers to have professional liability insurance and the systems used to implement such requirements. The Work Group gathered information from Oregon, Idaho, and other non-U.S. jurisdictions, investigated a number of system models, examined data collected from APR 26 insurance disclosure records, and reviewed historical documentation about a 1986 WSBA initiative to adopt a mandatory malpractice rule. Without formulating a recommendation or proposal, the Work Group presented this information to the Board of Governors as a generative discussion topic at the May 2017 Board meeting. After consideration of the information presented, the BOG decided to form a Task Force to review the topic in greater depth, receive member input, and present a recommendation about whether to proceed with a mandatory malpractice insurance proposal.

Task Force Purpose

1. Solicit and collect input from WSBA members and others about whether to recommend a system of mandatory malpractice insurance for lawyers in Washington State.
2. Review information gathered by Mandatory Malpractice Insurance Work Group and gather any additional information needed for a comprehensive analysis of the topic, including alternative options.
3. Consider oral presentations and/or written materials regarding mandatory malpractice insurance systems used in the U.S. and elsewhere, together with other potential system models, and evaluate the feasibility, suitability, and practicality of such a regulatory requirement in Washington.

4. Determine whether to recommend adoption of a mandatory malpractice insurance requirement in Washington.
5. If a regulatory requirement is recommended, determine the most suitable contours of such a system, including development of a model that addresses the means of providing or procuring coverage, as well as issues of scope, exemptions, and enforcement.
6. After considering relevant materials and input, submit a final report to the BOG, including, as appropriate, draft rules to implement a system of mandatory malpractice insurance for Washington lawyers, and including any minority report(s).

Timeline

- Begin meeting no more than six weeks after appointments are completed;
- Complete work and submit a final report not later than the January 2019 BOG meeting, unless the timeline for completion is extended by the BOG;
- If the task force recommends adoption of a mandatory malpractice system, prepare a BOG-approved set of suggested rule amendments for submission to the Supreme Court before the first GR 9 deadline after the draft amendments are approved by the BOG;
- Provide updates on the work of the task force as requested by the BOG.

Task Force Membership

The task force shall consist of the following voting members:

- A WSBA member who shall be appointed to serve as Chair;
- Three current or former members or officers of the BOG;
- Not fewer than ten at-large members of the WSBA, including
  - at least one lawyer member with substantial experience in insurance coverage law;
  - at least one lawyer member who is also an active member of the Oregon State Bar and who participates in Oregon's Professional Liability Fund;
  - at least one limited practice officer or limited license legal technician member;
- A full-time superior court, district court, municipal court, or court of appeals judge;
- An individual with professional experience in the insurance/risk management industry;
- Two community representatives who are not licensed to practice law.

The Executive Director will designate a WSBA staff liaison.

In accordance with WSBA Bylaws Art. IX(B)(2)(e) and (f), the members and the Chair of the task force will be appointed by the WSBA President subject to being accepted or rejected by the BOG. Such appointment and approval shall be completed by no later than the BOG's November 2017 meeting.

MEMBER BIOS

Hugh Spitzer is a law professor at the University of Washington School of Law, where he teaches Professional Responsibility along with several other courses. From 1982 until his retirement in 2016, he practiced public finance and municipal law with Foster Pepper PLLC and its predecessor firms in Seattle. Hugh continues to practice as a part-time solo practitioner, advising other lawyers. He has a modest professional liability insurance policy through ALPS.

John Bachofner is a shareholder at Jordan Ramis PC. His practice focuses on litigation and jury trials, as well as on insurance coverage, product liability, general business, bankruptcy, and creditors' rights issues. He is the chair of Jordan Ramis PC's Litigation Group as well as chair of the Oregon State Bar's Litigation Section. He has represented individuals and organizations in a variety of state and federal courts, arbitration forums, and agency hearings, as well as in a variety of transactions. Having taken or defended hundreds of depositions, he is frequently involved in binding arbitration of matters. Since 1996, he has first-chaired a number of jury trials to verdict in trials lasting from one day to as long as two weeks.

Stan Bastian is a U.S. District Court Judge in the Eastern District of Washington, with Chambers in Yakima. He was appointed by President Barack Obama in 2014. Prior to that he was in private practice for over 25 years in Wenatchee and he served as the President of the Washington State Bar Association in 2007-08.

Dan Bridges was elected to the Board of Governors in September 2016, when he replaced Elijah Forde as District-9 governor. Bridges is a partner with McGaughey Bridges Dunlap PLLC. He has tried over 50 jury trials in state and U.S. District Court and argued more than 30 appeals in Washington Supreme Court, all three divisions of the Washington Court of Appeals, and the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit. And he serves as a superior court arbitrator in four Washington counties. Bridges received his undergraduate degree in political science from the University of Washington and his law degree from the University of Puget Sound (now Seattle University School of Law).

Christy Carpenter is a Limited License Legal Technician with a solo practice in Tacoma. Prior to opening her own firm in 2017, she was a paralegal for over 20 years, mainly in family law. Christy also serves on the WSBA LLLT Board and is an active volunteer with Tacoma Pro Bono.

Gretchen Gale is a graduate of the University of Colorado School of Law. She served in the Prosecuting Attorney's Offices of Pierce and Thurston Counties, the Thurston County Commissioner's Office, the Office of the State Treasurer, the Washington Attorney General's Office in the Labor and Personnel and Education Divisions, and was a partner in the government relations law firm of Cushman Gale LLC. Gretchen is currently retired from law practice but maintains an active license in the Washington State Bar Association and an inactive license in the Colorado Bar. She resides in Olympia, WA.

P.J. Grabicki practices law in Spokane with the Randall Danskin law firm, and is President of the firm. The firm consists of twenty-two attorneys, who engage in a broad range of civil practice. P.J.'s practice centers on estate planning and tax and business planning, including transactional work. P.J. is currently the President of the Legal Foundation of Washington and represents the Fifth Congressional District on the Board of Governors of the Washington State Bar Association. He is a member of the WSBA Taskforce studying mandatory malpractice proposals and a member of the Taskforce studying bar association structure in light of the U.S. Supreme Court's recent Keller decision. His firm is insured with ALPS.

Lucy Isaki is a retired civil litigator. She practiced law at a large Seattle firm from 1978 until 1999. She then joined the Attorney General's Office where she led the Complex Litigation Team. In 2007, Ms. Isaki joined the Gregoire Administration as a Senior Assistant Director at the Office of Financial Management where she was in charge of the State Risk Management and Contracts Division. She led the Risk Management Division until 2016 when she retired from the Department of Enterprise Services. The Risk Management Division is responsible for the state's extensive commercial insurance program, as well as the state's self-insurance program. Lucy was President of the King County Bar Association and served on the WSBA Board of Governors.

Mark Johnson is an elected Fellow in the American College of Trial Lawyers. He has been listed in every edition of The Best Lawyers in America since 1995 and Best Lawyers Publishing has named him Seattle's Plaintiffs' Legal Malpractice Lawyer of the Year three times. In 2008-2009 he was President of the Washington State Bar Association. He is a past president of LAW Fund, a nonprofit corporation that raises money from lawyers and judges to support Washington's civil legal aid organizations. He is currently a trustee on the board of The Legal Foundation of Washington. In 2018 he received the WSBA's Professionalism award. Mark is a partner at Johnson Flora Sprangers PLLC in Seattle. He limits his practice to the representation of plaintiffs in serious injury and medical and legal negligence cases, ethics consultations for lawyers and law firms, and mediation of personal injury and professional liability claims.

Rob Karl is an Agency Principal and Commercial Lines Property and Casualty Producer with Sprague Israel Giles, Inc. Rob has been with Sprague Israel Giles for 21 years, previously with Sedgewick James of Washington and Safeco Insurance Company. Rob and Sprague Israel Giles are experts, with over 60 years of experience, in malpractice and errors and omissions insurance and a specific focus on Lawyer Professional Liability coverage.

Kara R. Masters is an attorney who practices in the state and federal courts in Washington, Idaho, Oregon and Alaska. Kara is experienced in a number of civil practice areas, but a significant part of her practice focuses on complex insurance coverage and defense matters. In addition, Kara devotes a substantial amount of time working with various local non-profit organizations. Kara is currently “Of Counsel” to two firms, working from Bainbridge Island. She has professional liability insurance coverage through both firms.

Evan McCauley is a partner at Jeffers, Danielson, Sonn & Aylward, P.S., in Wenatchee, Washington, where he is a member of the firm’s business transactional group. His practice is focused on all aspects of corporate and business transactional law, tax and estate planning, real estate, and representation in probate and trust matters. Prior to joining JDSA in 2011, Evan practiced as a Certified Public Accountant in Seattle where he worked for an international accounting firm and for a Fortune 500 company. During law school, Evan served as a judicial extern to the Honorable Edward F. Shea in U.S. District Court in the Eastern District of Washington and to the Honorable Christine Quinn-Brintnall at Division II of the Washington State Court of Appeals.

Brad Ogura is a community member of the Mandatory Malpractice Insurance Task Force. He has also served on WSBA’s Disciplinary Selection Panel, Disciplinary Board and Client Protection Board. In addition to WSBA service, he is vice-chairman of Invest in Youth, a Seattle nonprofit that provides tutoring to at-risk elementary school students. He also serves on the board of the local chapter of the National Investor Relations Institute.

Suzanne K. Pierce is currently a shareholder with the Seattle office of Davis Rothwell Earle and Xóchihua, PC (32 lawyers) providing insurance defense, including defending professionals (engineers, doctors, psychologists and attorneys). She has previously worked as a Senior Assistant City Attorney for the City of Seattle defending personal injury and property claims made against the City. She has also worked as a federal judicial clerk, a solo practitioner, an associate in a five-person firm and an associate in a very large firm with worldwide offices and hundreds of attorneys. She is licensed in Washington (25 years) and Oregon. She received her B.A. and law degrees from the University of Michigan.

Brooke Pinkham currently directs the Center for Indian Law & Policy at Seattle University School of Law. The Center for Indian Law & Policy provides an emphasis on Indian law, research, programs and projects. Prior to Seattle University, Ms. Pinkham was a Staff Attorney with the Northwest Justice Project (NJP), Washington's only legal aid organization. While at NJP, Ms. Pinkham provided direct representation and advocacy on behalf of tribal members throughout Washington State. Brooke has served on the Boards for the Washington State Bar Association Indian Law Section, the Northwest Indian Bar Association, Powerful Voices, Indigenous Peoples' Institute at Seattle University, and many others. Brooke has particular expertise in Indian estate planning and probate, enforcing application of the Indian Child Welfare Act, protecting the rights to secure housing, tribal and non-tribal public benefits, and the education rights of Native American students. Brooke is a University of Washington School of Law graduate.

Todd Startzel is a principal with Kirkpatrick & Startzel, P.S., a six-person litigation firm based in Spokane, Washington. He has 31 years of litigation experience. His litigation practice focuses primarily on areas of insurance defense, construction defect and complex multi-party litigation. His firm has a professional liability insurance policy with ALPS with limits of $2 million per claim/$4 million aggregate.

Stephanie Wilson is the Head of Reference Services at Seattle University School of Law, where she manages a team of law library faculty, teaches legal research courses, and provides legal research instruction and support for faculty, students, alumni, and patrons. Prior to coming to Seattle University, Ms. Wilson was a reference librarian at Willkie Farr and Gallagher in New York City. As a lawyer, she worked for the Legal Aid Society of New York City and in New York City's Legal Counsel Office.

Annie Yu serves as a deputy prosecuting attorney with the Pierce County Prosecutor's Office. She currently represents the Washington Department of Child Support in child support enforcement actions. She attended Seattle Pacific University and Gonzaga University School of Law.
