Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact on the Courts

RCW 26.19 would be revised and a new section added.

Section 2 would amend RCW 26.19.011 to modify definitions used by the court when determining child support.

Section 3 would amend RCW 26.19.020, which includes the table setting out the monthly basic support obligation per child. The table would also be simplified by eliminating age distinctions for children.

Section 4 would amend RCW 26.19.065 to clarify guidelines.

Section 5 would amend RCW 26.19.075 to remove criteria for deviations for children from other relationships.

Section 6 would add a new section to chapter 26.19 RCW that would allow for adjustments to the standard support calculation for the children not before the court.

Section 7 would amend RCW 26.19.090. Before determining the parents' obligation for postsecondary educational support, the court shall consider other funding sources when determining the unmet need for support.

The changes to the RCW would not affect the current process. Therefore, it is assumed that the proposed bill would have minimal fiscal impact on the courts statewide.
