Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact on the Courts

RCW 36.18.016 (2)(b) would be amended to add an additional fee of fifteen dollars until June 30, 2020. The entire amount would be deposited in the domestic violence prevention account.

II. B - Cash Receipts Impact

The additional fee would be collected at the time of filing. Although the filing fee for dissolution, legal separation or declaration concerning the validity of marriage is sometimes reduced, the current surcharge of $30 is not waived. It is assumed the additional $15 would not be waived. The average filings over a three year period that would be eligible for the additional fee would be 15,432. Therefore, the potential revenue is $231,485 (15,432 X $15 = $231,485). The first year of collection is calculated at 75% to allow for implementation of the new fee.

II. C - Expenditures

The only cost associated with the passage of the bill is for new codes to track the additional revenue. It is estimated to take 65 hours. The cost would be under $5,000 and would be absorbed within the workload.
