Part II: Narrative Explanation

This bill would modify the conditional release of sexually violent predators to less restrictive confinement alternatives amending RCW 4.24.550 and Chapter 71.09 RCW.

Part II.A – Brief Description of what the Measure does that has fiscal impact on the Courts

Section 2(3)(d) – Would require the Department of Social and Health Services to provide additional community notification for risk level III offenders committed under 71.09 RCW to include information regarding civil commitment to the public at large including, but not limited to, status of total confinement, conditional release, and unconditional release, and hold a community notification meeting pursuant to the guidelines established under RCW 4.24.5501.

Section 2(5)(a)(i) – Would require the sex offender web site maintained by the Washington Association of Sheriffs and Police Chiefs to add a description of prior sexual offenses and civil commitment status and history of level III offenders.

Section 3(15) – Would add language to the definition of “secure community transition facility” to include any court-ordered placement resulting in more than one sexually violent predator in a secure facility.

Section 3(21) – Would define “individual residence” to mean a court-ordered placement to a secure facility under RCW 71.09.096 that houses not more than one sexually violent predator who is conditionally released to a single-family residence, multifamily residence or group dwelling.

Section 4 – Would add language that requires that before the court can enter an order directing conditional release to a less restrictive alternative, the person has progressed in the treatment provided at the special commitment center and the person’s conditional release would not unduly place the community at risk.

Section 5(2) – Would require that a person who was granted a conditional release to a secure community transition facility and then has that release revoked under RCW 71.09.098 or 71.09.112 and is remanded to the custody of the secretary back to a total confinement facility and is subsequently granted another conditional release to a less restrictive alternative the person would be placed into a secure community transition facility before the person can be conditionally released to an any other placement.
