Part II: Narrative Explanation

This bill would create “transition teams” to assist certain specified persons who are under civil commitment.

Part II.A – Brief Description of what the Measure does that has fiscal impact on the Courts

Section 1(4)(a) – Would add provisions to allow for the conditional release requiring the discharge of the person to the community and provides for specifics to be added to the related order. The bill would indicate that "specially trained" community corrections officer will supervise the committed person.

Section (4)(b) – Would amend section details that if the court requires participation in a behavioral health treatment, certain parties are now required to report to the court various non-adherence to the conditions.

Section 1(4)(c) – Would add the appointment of a transition team to assist the person with care coordination.

Section 2(6)(a) – Would provide that where courts have made an affirmative special finding about "(b) For any person subject to commitment under this subsection where the charge underlying the finding of incompetence is for a felony classified as violent under RCW 9.94A.030, the court shall determine whether the acts the person committed constitute a violent offense under RCW 9.94A.030". A transition team would be required to be appointed by the court.

Section 3(6)(a) – Would add requirements for when the court makes an affirmative special finding under RCW 71.05.280(3)(b), the court shall appoint a transition team to assist the person.

Section 4(7) – Would specifically allow a care coordinator to share treatment and compliance records to parties necessary for the implementation of proceedings in this section or in chapter 10.77 RCW without a release of information.
