please allow WA to have LLLT's in all areas of the law.

Many times all we need is a sounding board- should we pursue a course of action? What are my legal rights? A letter written by a legal professional ? Why can this work not be done by a step down from a fully fledged lawyer (and at a 1/10 th of the price)?

The consultation fee of a lawyer is a barrier and often results in nothing being done - a wrongful action.....(fill in the blank) continues. Point in case: my elderly immigrant neighbor wants her husband out of the house - and have legal separation. She asks me for advice- of course I say that she should talk to a lawyer, but she says she can't afford it. An LLLT would be an affordable alternative.

Respectfully Jacqueline Golding
