I was happy to see the beginning of this program.

- Something similar, nurse practitioners, have always been favorites of mine, as a most valuable resource and someone standing next to the highly trained doctor. And, of course, both the LLLTs and nurse practitioners are also well-trained.
- Apparently, LLLTs have proved themselves to be capable and intelligent. Capable and intelligent lawyers have learned to use the LLLT's abilities while they attended to other work.
- Often, a high-priced lawyer is unnecessary for many ordinary situations
- Don't allow those attorneys who are so small-minded that they regard these LLLT's as competition to shut this program down.

Don't shut the program down; expand it into other legal areas.
