To the Supreme Court Justices:

I urge you to expand, not eliminate, the program and practice areas for LLTs. These legal professionals provide needed services, especially to those of limited income and limited access to justice. There is never a time to rescind programs/opportunities that provide greater affordable access to the justice system to low-income residents and communities of color. I can't think of any justification for allowing this program to expire. Do the right thing!

Sincerely,
Leigh Jones-Bamman
