Whether it's unchecked speeders on I-90, or any other road in Washington State, smash and grabs at convenience stores, mothers afraid to take their children to parks or even a grocery store, daily shootings, the list goes on and on. Washington State has become a refuge for criminals. Break a law, any law, in Washington State and you'll be home by dinner time. Our police officers are putting their lives on the line everyday for what?? To watch the criminals go free before they have even filed their reports?? When are the victims of crime in this state going to matter more than the perpetrators??? No wonder people are leaving this state in droves and the City of Seattle is no longer considered a tourist destination.

Please stop giving free passes to people who commit crimes.
