7. Jurisdiction over the child (RCW 26.27.201 – .221, .231, .261, .271)

The court can decide a Parenting Plan or Residential Schedule for the child and decide who the child should live with most of the time because (check all that apply):

Exclusive, continuing jurisdiction – A Washington court has already made a custody order or parenting plan for the child, and the court still has authority to make other orders for the child.

- Home state jurisdiction – Washington is the child's home state because (check all that apply):
- The child lived in Washington with a parent or someone acting as a parent for at least the 6 months just before this case was filed, or if the child is less than 6 months old, the child has lived in Washington with a parent or someone acting as a parent since birth.
 - There were times the child was not in Washington in the 6 months just before this case was filed (or since birth if they are less than 6 months old), but those were temporary absences.
 - The child does not live in Washington right now, but Washington was the child's home state sometime in the 6 months just before this case was filed, and a parent or someone acting as a parent of the child still lives in Washington.
 - The child does not have another home state.
- No home state or home state declined – No court of any other state (or tribe) has the jurisdiction to make decisions for the child, or a court in the children's home state (or tribe) decided it is better to have this case in Washington and:
- The child and a parent or someone acting as a parent has ties to Washington beyond just living here; and
 - There is a lot of information (substantial evidence) about the child's care, protection, education and relationships in this state.
- Other state declined – The courts in other states (or tribes) that might be the child's home state have refused to take this case because it is better to have this case in Washington.
- Temporary emergency jurisdiction – The court can make decisions for the child because the child is in this state now and was abandoned here or needs emergency protection because the child (or the children's parent, brother or sister) was abused or threatened with abuse. (Check one):
- A custody case involving the child was filed in the child's home state (name of state or tribe): _____. Washington should take temporary emergency jurisdiction over the child until the Petitioner can get a court order from the child's home state (or tribe).
 - There is no valid custody order or open custody case in the child's home state (name of state or tribe): _____. If no case is filed in the child's home state (or tribe) by the time the children have been in Washington for 6 months, (date): _____, Washington should have final jurisdiction over the children.
- Other reason (specify): _____
- The court cannot decide a Parenting Plan or Residential Schedule for the child or decide who the child should live with most of the time because the court does not have jurisdiction over the child.
